Family Split by War Settles Down Here

Two Sons Were GI's And 2 Bore Arms For Germany

One son was killed while fighting with the German Army on the Russian front.

Another was captured by the British while serving in the German Navy.

A third son joined the U. S Army in Germany, "volunteered" for duty in the U S. and later was sent to Korea for 14 months of service.

A fourth son enlisted in the U. S Army in Ohio and served his three-year enlistment—with the U. S Army of Occupation in Germany!

THIS IS THE STRANGE saga of a German-American family now living in Marion.

It's the family of Mr and Mrs Eric Klaus, who have done a lot of traveling before settling down at 244 S. State St. in Marion

The parents, natives of Germany, emigrated to America in 1925, with their first two children, Gerhart and Eric Jr.

They settled in St. Louis, where Roy was born In 1931, the growing family moved to Marietta, O, and in 1933 to Miami, Fla, where Robert was born Two years later, they moved again—to New York City, where Rosemarie was born in 1938.

Klaus was a painter, and no one was having their house painted—it was the depression. No matter where they moved, times were tough.

So in the latter part of 1938 Mr. and Mrs Klaus decided to go back to Germany, where a living might be easier.

"IT WAS OUR biggest mistake" says Mr Klaus today It was this that eventually brought on the separation of the family, a separation which was to last throughout the war years and later.

They settled down in their home town of Magdeburg, about 150 miles from Berlin

Then the war broke out

The oldest son, Gerhardt being a German citizen of 21 was almost immediately drafted into service and was killed a few months later in an engagement against the Russians.

Eric Jr, too, was pressed into service entering the German Navy He was later captured by the British Navy and was used as an interpreter

In 1943, another son was born and was named Gerhardt II in

Loss Hits Millions as Ohio Crests at Nine Feet Above Flood Stage in Cincinnati

Puerto Rican Nationalists Found Guilty

Federal Jury Convicts 10 of 11 on Charge of Seditious Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court jury early today convicted 10 Puerto Rican Nationalist party members of seditious conspiracy after deliberating the case for nearly 16 hours

An 11th man was acquitted

The group had been charged with trying to bring about the "political independence of Puerto Rico from the United States by force and violence and armed revolution"

Linked With Plot

Testimony at the trial linked the Nationalist party with the 1950 attempt to assassinate former President Truman and the wounding of five congressmen in the U S. House of Representatives March 1, 1954

In charging the jury, Judge John F X. McGohey said it must decide whether the defendants helped in these shootings If the jury found that the shootings were the isolated act of a few persons unaided by the defendants, the jury could not consider them against the defendants, he said

The new convictions brought to 27 the number of Nationalist party members who have been convicted of, or pleaded guilty to, seditious charges in the past six months

Face Up to 6 Years

As in previous cases, the 10 face up to six years in prison and $5,000 in fines or both. Sentencing was set for March 31

The defendant acquitted was Serafin Colon Alovera, 43 New York Trial testimony linked him with party membership in 1949 and placed him at a Nationalist dance in 1953.

Those convicted were:

Estaban Quinones Escute, Santiago Gonzales Castro, Antonio Herrara Moreno Pedro Aviles and Mrs Carmen Dolores Torresola, all of New York.

Juan Hernandez Valle of Puerto Rico, and Miguel Vargas Nieves, Maximino Pedraza Martinez Angel Luis Arzola and Julio Flores Medina, all of Chicago

Rise in River Tapers Off at 61-Foot Mark

Thousands Homeless; Damage in Four-State Area Worst Since '48

CINCINNATI (AP) — The worst Ohio River flood since 1948 crested at 61 feet at Cincinnati today and moved into the Indiana-Kentucky area

The crest was reached "between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning" the weather bureau announced It was nine feet above flood stage.

After remaining stationary for a short time, the water began to drop at a rate of about one-tenth inch per hour

The flood left behind it multi-million dollar damge and several thousand persons homeless It never reached the proportions of a major catastrophe

Normally, the river crests and then is at a standstill for several hours before it begins to recede.

High waters indirectly caused one death when a Cincinnati warehouse worker drowned, trapped in an elevator descending into deep basement waters

Fails To Stop Elevator

Police said the man, Trenton Harton Jr, 30, was trapped when he apparently became excited and failed to stop the elevator. He had taken the ride to see "how deep the water was" in the warehouse basement near the river. His calls for help echoed from the death cage.

The Red Cross said 3,182 families in Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana had been affected so far by the flood

Indiana state officials looked to flood walls and levees to help protect low area property. Flood walls in Ohio and West Virginia were credited with preventing millions of dollars in damages.

Scattered showers were forecast for the Ohio Valley but the predictions offered slight cause for concern

Engineers Estimate Loss

The Huntington, W Va., district of the Ohio River engineers was the first to come up with a flood damage estimate. That district covers the river from Powhatan Point, Ohio, to Maysville, Ky., plus the river's tributaries in the area.

Col George T. Derby, district engineer, estimated the damage at more than $8 657,000 but he said flood walls and reservoirs had prevented another 50½ million dollars in damage

There still was a lot of water in and around Cincinnati. The Coney Island amusement park and the River Downs race track were from 6 to 20 feet under water.

U.S. Economy, Others Linked, Senators Hear

McCloy Tells Banking Group Nation Depends On Free World Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—John J McCloy, board chairman of the Chase National Bank, said today the United States is becoming economically more dependent on its allies "as the free world grows stronger."

McCloy, former U S high commissioner for Germany, told the Senate Banking Committee this trend works the other way too—that other Western countries increasingly need the support of the American economy.

The committee, headed by Sen Fulbright (D-Ark), called McCloy and Marriner S Eccles, former Federal Reserve Board chairman, as today's witnesses in its week-old "friendly study" of the recently zig-zagging stock market

Share prices dropped sharply on the New York exchange for the second day yesterday although a fairly broad recovery followed

Fulbright stood by his contention that the Senate inquiry didn't cause the price break.

McCloy was asked to testify about the impact of foreign participation in the American stock market His reply, in prepared testimony, was that it's not very great and appears to have been decreasing in recent years.

Ford's Cleveland Plant Hit by Second Walkout

CLEVELAND (AP)—A second wildcat strike, an outgrowth of one 10 days ago, hit the Ford Motor Company's foundry and engine plant at Brook Park last night.

Pickets, members of the CIO Automobile Workers, appeared at the gates before the 11 p. m shift They said they were protesting the firing of eight union stewards accused of leading the earlier walkout

About 1,000 workers—a third of the normal force — crossed the picket lines, but there was no violence.

Amendment Killed

Easier Going Seen For 'Three R's' Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "Three Rs" bill—a measure to require schools to teach a set of basic subjects—sailed into smoother waters in the Ohio Legislature today.

Stripped from the House - approved bill was an amendment temporarily hung on it by a Senate committee—an amendment to permit, rather than require, schools to teach the harmful effects of alcoholic beverages."

The amendment, adopted by a 5-3 vote last week, had appeared to be a fatal millstone around the bill's neck. But, by a legislative maneuver yesterday, the amendment was reconsidered and killed

Chances for Passage Better

That action, with one exception, put the bill back in the same shape it was when it was approved by the House. That meant its passage by the Senate and subsequent approval by the House of Senate amendments are more likely.

If the bill becomes law, it practically would put the law back to what it was in 1943 when a "sleeper" amendment changed the law from "shall" to "may" with regard to subjects the state's schools are to teach

The only Senate amendment which still stands is one to require a year's study of American history for a child graduating from elementary school — from the eighth to ninth grade—a requirement not placed on school pupils now or before the law was changed in 1943

To Recess for Weekend

House and Senate planned to begin their long weekend recess today after deciding—for or against—the fate of a bill to increase the salaries of county auditors The Senate had the upper hand in a late-developing dispute which threatened to doom the auditors' salary measure

The Senate passed the bill originally The House passed a substitute bill But the rub is this Unless the emergency measure is a state law by Saturday, it probably will do auditors no good That's because the Ohio constitution prohibits officeholders from receiving pay increases during their terms Ohio's county auditors begin new terms next Monday.

After House passage of the substitute bill yesterday, the Senate met informally and decided it would refuse to accept the House bill That puts the issue up to the House Accept the Senate bill or see the whole matter die.

Major Differences

These are the major points of difference

1. The House measure provides a top of $9,500 including inheritance fees and a minimum of $3,600 for county auditors, depending on their county's population.

2 The Senate bill sets a top of $10 000, without inheritance fees Present limits range from $2,600 in the smallest counties to $9,000

Ike To Request Spending Boost To Check Reds

Administration Said To Want $200 Million Increase for Far East

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration was reported today planning to ask Congress for $1,200,000,000 to step up by about a fifth the flow of American economic aid to the Communist-threatened Far East

This sum—some 200 million dollars more than Congress provided last year—would go to buy raw materials, food and equipment for 16 non-Communist countries during the year beginning July 1.

Any proposal to increase nonmilitary aid is certain to face opposition in Congress.

A new feature of the aid program as outlined by informed sources would be a 200-million-dollar Asia loan fund This would be turned over to President Eisenhower to allocate to groups of Far Eastern countries who join in financing projects to improve the region as a whole

Foreign Aid Director Harold E Stassen plans to talk over the Asia aid plan, now being drafted after months of discussion, when he meets Monday with Eisenhower.

Stassen, winding up a seven-nation tour of Far East Nations, and Secretary of State Dulles are reported satisfied that the 20 per cent increase in Asia aid funds will permit a start on a long-range program for improving living conditions

Secretary of the Treasury Humphry, who has been reported lukewarm to the idea of large-scale aid increases for the region, is also reported to have agreed.

Albert Blumberg Bechtel's attorney, said a sanity commission will reconvene tomorrow to examine Bechtel

Democrats Set For Fight Over Tax Reductions

Hot Debate Expected On Floor of Senate on Compromise Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats prepared for sharp, partisan debate on tax relief today with a plan to offset income tax cuts with revenue from other sources.

The Senate Democratic leadership unveiled its own income tax cut plans yesterday as a substitute for the House-passed $20-a-person reduction for everybody.

The House provision, an annual $2,200,000 000 cut, had seemed doomed to defeat in the Senate

The substitute would give 908 million dollars of annual relief, nearly all of it to low income families, at the rate of $20 for the taxpayer and $10 for each dependent except his wife But it would repeal other benefits for corporations and higher income taxpayers which Democrats contend would more than offset that amount.

Their chances of putting over the substitute did not appear too bright Two powerful Southern Democrats on the Finance Committee, Byrd (Va), its chairman, and George (Ga), said they would not go along

George said "it's better than the House bill" but added "I do not think it is likely it will change my position"

Byrd said "I do not think it will change things on the Senate floor."

Allies Assured Of 'Fair Share' Of U.S. Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told America's European allies today the United States will maintain its "fair share" of military forces in Europe so long as there is a threat to the area

The pledge was given in a message from the President to the prime ministers of seven European nations which are setting up a Western European Union to include a rearmed West Germany.

These nations are Britain, France, West Germany Belgium, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands

The message is designed to dispel any fears in France or other countries that once German power is added to that of other Western nations the United States would pull out of Europe It is also designed to spell out U S policy on cooperation with the North Atlantic alliance.

Planes Feared Down in Utah's Mountain Area

Air Force B25, Small Private Plane, Total Of 7 Aboard, Missing

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Two airplanes, with a total of seven persons aboard, were missing in the Utah area today Air Force and civilian pilots said bad weather likely would hamper search efforts.

One of the planes is a B25 stationed at the Great Falls, Mont, Air Force Base. It was declared missing at 2 47 a m today. Bob Rampton, public information officer at Hill Air Force Base near Ogden said the plane, with three men aboard, landed last night at Hill to refuel It was en route to March Field in California.

Misses Second Check

It reported in at its first check point over Salt Lake City, then disappeared. The next check point would have been at Delta, Utah, about 110 miles southwest of Salt Lake City

Four persons, including a boy about 14 years old, were aboard the other aircraft, a light twin-engined ship It was reported en route from Chicago to Arcadia, Calif It was believed the pilot was Robert J. Willis Identity of the others was undetermined.

Search Delayed

Civil Aeronautics Administration officials said the plane left Rock Springs, Wyo, at 4 30 p m. yesterday and filed a flight plan for Salt Lake City It would have arrived by 6 p m The CAA said the plane's gas supply would have been exhausted by 9 30 p m Between Rock Springs and Salt Lake City is some of the roughest terrain in the country.

The CAA said low clouds would hide the mountain tops and an extensive search couldn't be started until the ceiling rose The 44th Air and Rescue Squadron at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver was sending two SA16 search planes to hunt for the civilian aircraft.

Opportunities Outlined

Recreation Needs of City Explored by Local Group

First of a series of meetings to discuss Marion's recreational needs and opportunities was held at the YMCA Wednesday night with some 50 persons attending.

Sponsored by the League of Women Voters, purpose of the meetings will be to determine what recreational facilities the city now has and what improvements, if any, are needed.

ONE POINT emphasized during last night's panel discussion was the lack of funds for recreational purposes in the city.

Thomas Clark, a member of the City Recreation Commission and a former city councilman, noted that a total of $3,000 has been earmarked for recreation for 1955 by City Council

In addition, $10,000 has been appropriated for use of the Park Commission in the care and maintenance of the city parks, he said.

THE COMMISSION has tentatively decided that none of the city parks will be opened this summer until dead limbs and trees are removed from them, Clark said Cost of such a project would be over $6,000, he said

Because of this, the board has also tentatively decided that it will concentrate on readying only one of the parks for use this

House Assent Predicted For Military Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two key Democrats predicted the House will approve today President Eisenhower's program to boost the pay of career military servicemen from 6 to 25 per cent.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee and Rep. Kilday (D-Tex), a senior member, said they had heard of no important opposition The measure would add 745 million dollars to the annual five-billion-dollar military payroll

11.9 Per Cent Hike

A House vote is expected in late afternoon. The Senate has not acted

The measure calls for an average increase of 11 9 per cent for enlisted men and warrant officers with over two years' service and officers with over three years' duty. An estimated two million men would be due to raises on the first of the month after the President signs the bill

Possible Changes Seen

An Army private with over three years' service would get an added $7 80 per month, or $101.40; a first lieutenant with over three years' duty would get $61 22, or $335.40 monthly; a brigadier general with over 22 years' service would be jumped $49 92 to $850.20 monthly.

No increases are provided for men with less service. Administration spokesmen said the main purpose is to encourage trained men to make a career of military service.

Norway Video Network Plans Still Indefinite

OSLO (UP) — Norwegian technicians have been busy during the past year preparing a national television system, but so far only 12 registered viewers see those geometric patterns the technical staff relays from headquarters at nearby Tryvasshoegda.

The leader of the preparations, Christian K. Rytter, told the United Press that the present station could reach some 750,000 of Norway's population of slightly over 3,000,000. if regular programs were transmitted, most of the people around Oslo would see them, Rytter said.

Great difficulties are involved in extending the network to the mountainous Norwegian west coast, not to speak of the three northern counties of Nordland, Troms and Finnmark.

"We expect the trial period to end next January and that we are able to give parliament a report in the spring of 1956," Rytter said.

"After a review of our experiences and estimates, the parliament will decide whether regular programs should start or the television net be extended."

Rytter stressed that it still is far too early to say whether Norway will join the European television network, but he described that possibility as "most likely."

"I should believe that Norway, Sweden and Denmark at least will cooperate closely in making the programs because there are no language difficulties" Rytter said.

The younger engineer declared that no foreign experts will be called to help the Norwegians with their television system.

"As soon as the basic technical preparations are finished we will educate the necessary number of technicians and program editors," he said.

He also revealed that the future transmitter in the Oslo area probably will be located at Hurum near the Oslo Fjord, at least a trial station will be built there to replace the one at Tryvasshoegda.

"We Norwegians have just started on the field of television. Time will show how things develop, and the parliament has the last word after seeing our report," Rytter concluded.

The firefly isn't a fly at all, but a beetle. It has two pairs of wings, the forward pair stiff and useless in flight. The flashing light from its tail is a luminous love call with which it finds its mate.

United Appeals: The First Step

The board of trustees of the United Appeals of Marion County made an important and far-reaching decision Monday night.

In voting to hire the American City Bureau of Chicago, a professional fund-raising firm, to assist in this year's United Appeals drive, the trustees took the first major step in a concerted effort to achieve a much-needed campaign victory.

Drastic action is imperative to correct the situation that existed in 1953 and 1954, when the drives fell far short of their goals.

The decision to employ professional assistance came only after long and careful study by the United Appeals planning committee and the trustees.

Anyone inclined to be critical of the decision should ask himself two questions? 1. Is it important that the United Appeals goal be met? 2. Could that goal be reached this year without outside help?

If the answer is "yes" to the first question and "no" to the second, then the conclusion reached explains the decision of the trustees.

This realistic approach would not have been necessary if last year's drive had failed by a narrow margin. But it was $36,900 short of the goal, attaining only 78½ per cent of quota. The factors that created this situation, despite the best efforts of the local leadership and the hundreds of workers, obviously cannot be corrected with a twist of the wrist.

Obtaining an affirmative answer on the importance of reaching the United Appeals goal shouldn't be difficult. The work of the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Family Service Society, YMCA, Salvation Army, Heart Association, Cancer Society and USO is too well known to require explanation.

The belief that professional assistance is required on the leadership level is based on the requirements in time and know-how needed to overcome the specialized problems facing Marion's United Appeals organization.

Time, particularly, is an important factor because most local residents qualified for such responsibilities are tied too closely to their businesses and professions to work full-time on the campaign for an extended period.

A discussion of time is tricky, however, because the outlook is that the employment of professional help will result in much more work at the local level, not less. The professionals don't solicit funds; they were hired to provide the organization and techniques with which the Marion leaders and workers can accomplish their objective.

It is not the intention, nor the desire, of Marion United Appeals officials that the retention of professional fund-raisers should be on anything approaching a permanent basis. They feel that one, or two years at most, of outside help should put us back on our feet and lay the groundwork for the campaigns to be carried on locally.

The main theme that should be kept in mind by all of us between now and October is the tremendous need for a successful United Appeals campaign. It will take a peak effort by all of us to achieve it.

The Penalty of Age

There comes a time in every man's life when he begins to worry about what will happen to him in his declining years.

Unless there is a particular reason why it should be, health is not the primary factor in this anxiety.

A man wonders what he will do after retirement under provisions of a pension plan, at what age he will be forced to quit in the absence of a pension arrangement, or what his chances for employment will be if he becomes jobless after middle age.

The lengthening life span has brought the problem into sharp focus. Whereas forced retirement at 65 aroused no great fears in the employe of 25 years ago, life expectancy today, all other things being normal, leaves him with at least five more years of useful employment. And the gap will continue to grow.

Except as it might affect orderly operation of a pension plan, age itself should not be a barrier to employment, yet age discrimination has resulted in dumping thousands of healthy, active men at the height of their skills onto the unemployment scrap heap.

It has been said that 40 has become the arbitrary gateway beyond which a man may pass if he is unemployed and seeks a new connection, and yet by 1975, the Census Bureau estimates, the number of persons 45 and over in the United States will be more than 63 million.

There is no disputing the fact that because of ill health or for other reasons a man at 45, 50 or 55 may be burned out. He cannot give his job the same interest, the same energy and the same ingenuity he did at, say, 35 or 40.

By the same token, a man of 65 in good health and at the very peak of his skill and experience may be forced to retire and deprive society of his talent at the very time he could be the best bargain on his employer's payroll.

As medical science continues to add years to a man's life, it also creates an economic situation with which the government some day may have to deal more exhaustively.

The answer is not yet clear, but it will be as quickly as the pressure of public opinion catches up with statistics and the problem is tacked head-on with complete candor and in the absence of arbitrary ground rules.

Congressional Killjoys

By David Lawrence

Some Senators Would Abolish All Predictions

Someone is always taking the joy out of life — and now it's those members of Congress who would abolish the art of prophecy and the custom of "picking the winner" in all sorts of things, from baseball or horse racing to the ups and downs of the stock market.

It seems that when Walter Winchell told a nationwide television audience that he thought certain stocks were worth buying, he involuntarily prompted some senators to come forth with the usual solution to almost everything — which is that "there ought to be a law."

Now it so happens that national political campaigns are the subject of some lively betting just before election, and many of us for years have tried to pick the winner ahead of time. The national campaign managers do a lot of predicting, too. Maybe all this will be taboo now.

Also every Friday on the sports pages in the football season the editors give their list of prospective winners of Saturday's games.

Already the baseball writers are predicting that the Giants and the Indians will be pennant winners. Maybe all this will come under the ban now—for fear somebody might lose money.

THERE ARE TWO fundamental rights involved — one is the right to speak freely and the other is the right to lose one's own money. If the man who gives the tip turns out to be wrong, he will find himself in disfavor. This provides the best corrective for the future.

What about the brokerage houses that send out market letters every week suggesting that this or that stock is a "good buy"? Is this to be taboo also?

What about the senators themselves who are influencing the market and in a way causing losses to investors?

Anybody who has been reading the financial pages of the newspapers or the press association reports during the day has noticed for the last several days the direct effect on the stock market caused by reports of the investigation being conducted by the Senate subcommittee on banking. Here are some excerpts:

Wednesday, March 3.—"The stock market turned cautious today when Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) hinted at increased Securities and Exchange Commission regulation of the stock exchange. Prices slipped off from early highs."

Later the same day—"Later he (Sen. Fulbright) clarified his own statement and the market turned up again. There was no hasty selling, however, and the market appeared braced to absorb the testimony on its sharp rise."

March 8.—"A selling drive drove stocks down sharply in the last half hour of trading. The break came suddenly and without warning after a moderate recovery movement had set in from an earlier decline. Losses ranged beyond five points. The most potent reason for the drop was a suggestion by a Harvard professor that margins be hiked to 10 per cent. The wide publicity which this suggestion received — made before the Senate committee investigating the stock market—accelerated the dumping."

WHY SHOULD IT be necessary for the Senate Banking Committee to conduct its investigation in such an exhibitionist manner and during market hours?

Originally some of the Democrats piously announced that they wouldn't think of carrying on an "investigation" in the ordinary sense. Theirs was to be a "study." But there are other Democrats in Congress who think that a study can be handled by a 12-member commission sitting in executive session, as, for example, on personnel problems of the government.

All the facts necessary to reach legislative conclusions, if any, can be gathered in an orderly way without causing the stock market itself to be affected each day, through any intrinsic change in the values of the securities themselves but because of psychological factors created by the senators.

Anyway, the broadcasters who feel they have an equal right with senators or financial writers to discuss the ups and downs of the market will be justified now in calling the kettle black.

UNQUESTIONABLY the Senate committee inquiry is having an almost daily impact on the market, and the citizen who knows the names of future witnesses and the trend of their testimony based on past writings, or who has advance information as to whether the CIO is going to stop motorcar production soon with a strike, can make some money for himself.

Maybe printing this — itself a kind of prophecy or "tip" — will soon be taboo in this strange era of attempted conformity of thought

Kids Will Get Even

By Frank Tripp

A small boy was arguing with a storekeeper about the change that had been given him. I stopped to listen. The man was right, the boy wrong. Finally the youngster left the store convinced.

I never hear an argument about change that it doesn't bring memories of the first time my honesty was questioned. No incident of childhood made more lasting impression upon me. I was about seven.

My mother sent me to a neighborhood store with a note and a fifty-cent piece. The proprietor complied with the note, put the item and the change from the half dollar in a little paper bag and handed it to me. I went home.

The emergency purchased turned out to be a spool of thread which sold for a nickel. Mother opened the bag, poured out its contents and counted the change. There were three dimes and a nickle in the bag. 35 cents.

SHE MADE SURE of the soundness of the bag and its content, then gave me my first third degree. She went over and over my movements with me; became convinced of my truthfulness, put the contents back in the bag, took me by the hand and led me back to the store.

Mom wasn't the sort to pay 15 cents for a five-cent spool of thread, and she didn't like the fellow who ran the store anyway.

There was a spirited argument of which I became the butt. Both held their ground, so got nowhere. The upshot at the finish was that the storekeeper had me pegged as a thief and a liar: mother had him pegged as a bigger one and never darkened his door again.

FOR YEARS, thereafter I passed that man on the street, and another man who gypped me as a kid—the only two men with whom I ever deliberately set out to get even.

The other cheated me out of 24 cents as a newspaperboy. I tried and tried to collect for four weeks delivery of a penny paper. He insisted he had paid me. I knew he hadn't, for he was my only customer who didn't pay me every week. He saved 24 cents —a sly little theft that was to cost him plenty.

WE ALL GREW older, the storekeeper, the gypper, and the kid who never forgot. It was to be that their paths were to cross many times. The irony of it is that when they crossed only the kid remembered.

The others had forgotten that a relentless, hounding reporter with an insatiable appetite for shady facts in hypocrites' lives was one of the many kids they had cheated—and there must have been many, for that was the kind of birds they were.

It took me many years to square accounts with them—but I made it.

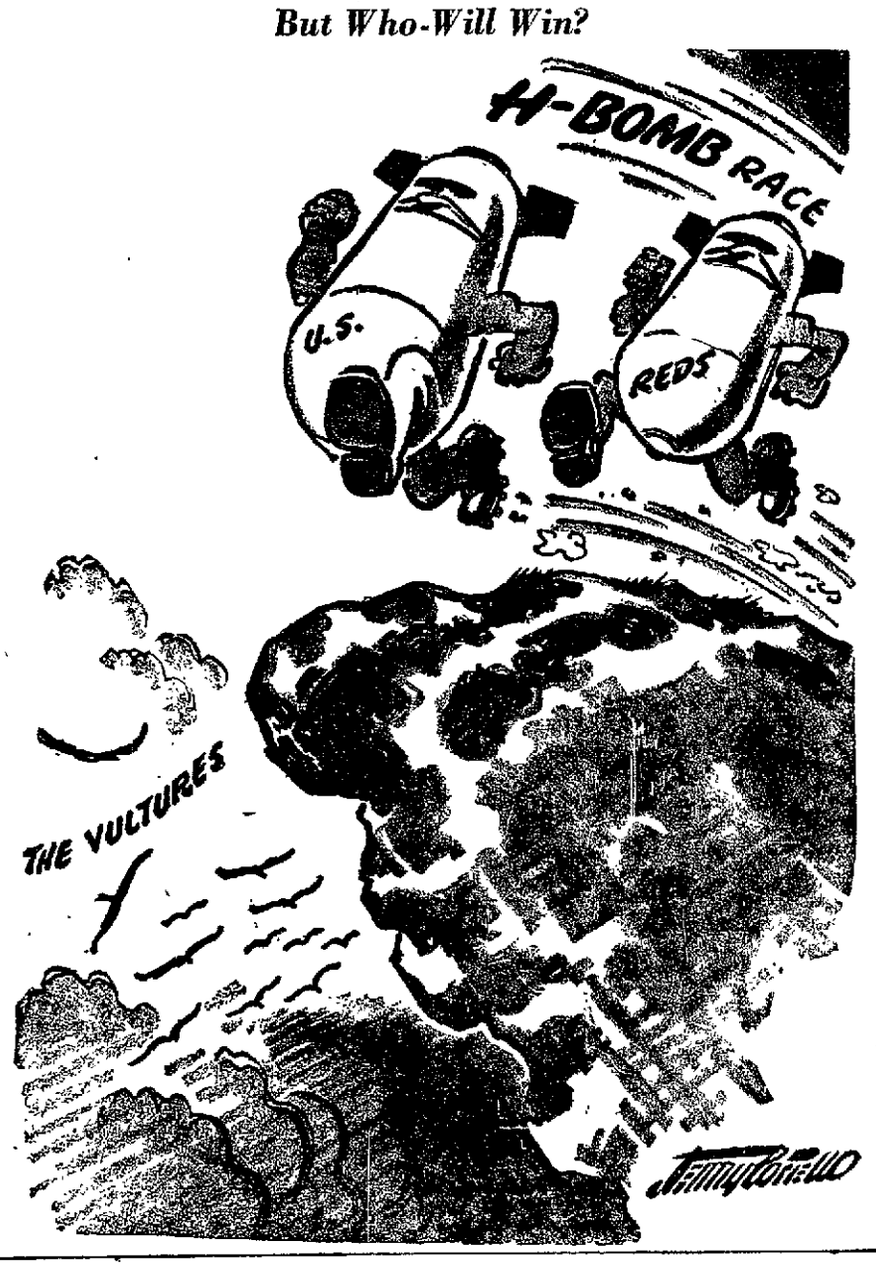
IF THERE'S a moral to this yarn, it must be obvious. Nothing becomes so indelible in the human mind as such events in the lives of children. They are remembered to the grave, with bitterness. They never are forgiven.

That is why it is so important to lean over backward in money dealings with youngsters. Pennies are fortunes to them, but vastly more serious is careless reflection upon their veracity; which can work two ways. It can clinch their honesty or make them crooks. Which it will do is too big a chance to take.

Better be sure and able to prove to little minds that they are wrong, than send them away with the doubts that always accompany one man's word against another's.

For a child unconvinced is an unyielding skeptic, and can easily be made an enemy forever.

But Who-Will Win?



False Witnesses Under Spotlight

By Jay G. Hayden

Far from trying to "cover up" matters affected by the turnabout of Harvey M. Matusow and other government witnesses, the Department of Justice is hustling to discover and publicize every instance in which such questionable testimony has been used before it is brought to light by somebody else.

In the case of Matusow specifically, two lines of action are under way.

First, in all court cases in which persons were convicted with Matusow among the witnesses against them, the government itself is asking for a ruling by the trial judge as to whether Matusow's reversal of testimony is sufficient to invalidate the conviction.

In that category particularly are the 13 "second string" Communists, found guilty in 1952, and Clifton P. Jencks, who drew a five-year sentence last year after a jury convicted him of filing a false non-Communist affidavit as an officer of the Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

JUST LAST WEEK, the U.S. Supreme Court refused to review conviction of the Communist 13, with the result that reopening of their cases must originate in the trial court. On the basis of Matusow's admission that his accusation of Jencks was "deliberately false," Judge R. E. Thomaston of the Texas Federal District Court was granted a new trial

Second, the Justice Department has ordered a search for all cases in which testimony by Matusow or any other turnabout witness figured in finding of disloyalty against government employes. Wherever such cases are found, Attorney General Brownell has ordered that they be fully re-examined.

The latter quest is especially timely because a Senate investigating committee has begun studying a proposal to establish a bi-partisan commission to review the administration's entire security program.

Also the Supreme Court soon is to hear an appeal by Dr. John P. Peters for reversal of his discharge for disloyalty, premised on the ground that he was denied opportunity to confront and cross-question witnesses against him.

The "turnabout witnesses" no doubt will figure in the argument in behalf of Peters for the reason that protection of informers is the main reason advanced by the government for not permitting government employes to know and challenge all the persons who may have appeared against them.

UNDER EISENHOWER administration practice, it is contended, persons discharged for whatever cause under the security program, are permitted full access to the testimony brought against them, including direct confrontation of witnesses, with one notable exception.

This is that there shall be no revelation of the testimony as to Communist or other subversive associations derived from secret investigations by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Obviously, any testimony that Matusow or any other undercover informer has given bearing on loyalty of particular government employes has been, at least up to now, in the zone of protected secrecy.

The reason this is so, it is explained, is that once the undercover informer, whether Communist turncoat or an agent planted by the FBI, is brought into the open his usefulness is destroyed.

Appearing before a Senate investigating committee in defense of this system, Assistant Attorney General Tompkins charged that Matusow's turnabout is part of a deliberte plot against FBI informants, with a purpose of weakening the government's campaign against subversives.

Tompkins declared that there could be "no more effective way" of "hamstringing" the FBI system "that through the demand for confrontation of all witnesses in non-criminal matters."

IT IS INSISTED, however, that no informer is used by the government either in criminal court or in government loyalty cases, without him or herself having been thoroughly investigated by the FBI. Matusow, it is said, was given a going-over ax to all phases of his background before any of his testimony was employed by the government against anybody.

Not that such witnesses are required to be simon pure in all respects, any more than are the "stool pigeons" used by every police agency. What the FBI does try to find out by checking of collateral circumstnces is whether the statements by the informant pertinent to persons or issues under investigation are true or false. Matusow, it is declared, passed that form of test before any use in court of the testimony which he now is repudiating.

Spain Fighting Illiteracy

By JOHN CULMER

MADRID

Spain is today fighting an all-out battle against ignorance and especially illiteracy, which in some area of the country runs as high as 20 per cent.

Each of the 50 Spanish provinces is competing enthusiastically in the current campaign, aimed at raising the standard of living of the average Spaniard and ultimately at helping Spain to compete in the economic field with her western neighbors on more nearly equal terms.

Special classes have been set up all over Spain to teach men and women to read and write, with progress reports funneled into Madrid from the provinces. The Basque province of Alva, near the northern Atlantic coast and close to the French border, will only admit to 1 per cent illiteracy and claims to lead the nation in its organization of primary education. The province of Ciudad Real, 100 miles south of Madrid, has announced that in the last five years it has taught over 40,000 adults to read and write.

As part of its plan to stamp out illiteracy the Spanish government has organized a system of Mobile" teachers to insure that elementary education reaches even the smallest and most remote villages. Hither to, in outlying districts lacking adequate communications, there was either insufficient schooling or none at all.

The town of Vitoria, 40 miles south of Bilbao, for example, has just scored an educational victory which it boasts is more praiseworthy than any of the achievement in other parts of Spain. Vitoria founded a school for supposedly "untamable" Gypsy children and has succeeded in inducing 34 of them to attend regularly. The pupils are the sons and daughters of the proud, independent bands of local Gypsies who camp out, during the winter, under the many bridges in and near the town.

Meanwhile, several provinces have adopted a highly effective method of obtaining good attendances at their special schools for illiterates. Everyone between the ages of 14 and 21 must present a certificate of literacy at the box offices of cinemas, theaters, and other public entertainments when buying tickets. No certificate — no entertainment, by government decree.

Target Practice

By BILL VAUGHAN

Congress will investigate the radio-TV industry and the chairman is going to have to watch himself or, after the first few days, he'll be opening the session with: "The committee will come to order; yes, folks, the committee will come to order."

—:—

In television drama the trend seems to be toward plays about men getting fired, quitting, battling for promotion, or hating the boss. Whatever happened to peaceful, refreshing themes like horse rustling, one gangster rubbing out another, or a crazed killer in some old maid's mansion?

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

'Paging Mr. Welch'

The Senate Committee probe into the stock market cries aloud for TV coverage. What did the Army-McCarthy or Kefauver quiz shows have that this one hasn't got? Certainly in this speculative age there are as many people interested in money as there were in Frank Costello, Pvt. Schine and Fort Monmouth. Sen. Fulbright wants no circus atmosphere, but what would be circus-like in letting the public "get in on the ground foor" of daily hearings via video? Everybody we know is in the market and a telecast might win a bigger following then "The Honeymooners."

The stock market has everything, color, spark, drama, battle scenes and even wrestling. The mystery element is high. And where can you find greater suspense? Millions of Americans who grab the stock page each night and see all stocks (except the one they bought) go up 10 points, think there is material for a "whodunit" in the situation.

To us the Fulbright inquiry has been woefully lacking in the "kick" provided in other recent probes. To put this one over big some personality like Counsellor Joe Welch of Boston is needed, with his obvious worries over lunch, his Chesterfieldian manner and the question "When you found that stocks were rising so fast why didn't you rush over to the proper official and scream, 'I've got the dope on this!'?"

We wish that either the stock exchange or the senators would get Mr. Welch into the act. We also miss Sen. Mundt, his cigar and his frequent: "Expressions of approval or disapproval will lead to immediate ejection.' And, oh, for some quaint figure to barge into the hearings, tap somebody on the back and announce he is about to make a speech demanding a vote of censure!

There has not even been a mention of spies, although there must be a spy ring working in our economic system somewhere to give everybody but us the top secrets on what stock is to rise next. The whole picture lacks wallop. The probe is in its second week and nobody has introduced a dentist who got into the market, got out fast with a profit and even won an honorable discharge from his broker!

Nobody has yet asked a single question about a customers' man who tried to get a promotion, spent a vast sum phoning his girl friends from his "post" and wound up in Alaska still unpromoted. We warn this committee that it should adopt a TV routine and arrange a climax in which three Senators walk out on a hearing, there is a near fist-fight between counsel and are cries of "Point of order."

Live it up, boys! Let's have a hearing in which an unsatisfactory stock exchange witness is told, "You are not fit to wear Brooks Brothers suits!"

Jack Paar strikes us as a Bob Hope without the book plugs and the pause for laughs. Liked his Oscars for the Japanese films "Three Yen in a Saki" and "Seven Geisha Girls for Seven GIs." . . . It seemed to us that Casey struck out on the "Omnibus" program because the ballet had a hop on its fast ball.

Tommy Manville says he is down to his last two million. . . . (Can't even tell where his next bride is coming from).

"Bus Stop," Broadway's newest comedy hit has elements of "Time of Your Life," "Petrified Forest" and "Truckline Cafe" in it.

Franchot Tone played "The Guardsman" as if playing the Army and Navy. We first saw Keith Funston, now he's top stock exchange boss, a few years ago when he was awarding swimming medals at Trinity College, Hartford, of which he as dean. Little did he think he would one day be questioned by a Senate group on the possible advantage of waterwings in Wall Street events. "I bought stocks in January and intended to buy more if I can save some money," said Mr. Fuston. . . . (Somehow it reminds us of John D. Rockefeller's famous 1929 statement: "My son and I are in the market now.")

LaRue, Mt. Gilead in Tourney's Semifinals Tonight

County Entry Faces Newark Power in Contest at Capital

LaRue High School's Indians will be shooting for a berth in the Central District finals tonight when they tackle a rugged Newark St. Francis quintet at Capital University.

The winner of tonight's scrap will meet Fredericktown, victor over Northwestern last night by a 69-67 count, for the tournament crown Saturday at 8 p.m. Tonight's contest also is slated for 8.

While LaRue is battling Newark, Mount Gilead's defending district champs, will be seeing action at Westerville against a sharpshooting Liberty Union squad. The Licking County cagers already boast wins over a pair of Marion County foes. They have eliminated Claridon and Prospect.

MOUNT GILEAD has posted victories over Ashville and Amanda in its tourney starts thus far. The winner of the Westerville game will meet Columbus St. Mary in the Saturday night finals. The Columbus team moved into the finals last night with a 65-56 verdict over Magnetic Springs.

Coach Ted Dennison's charges, co-champions of the Marion County League and county tournament runner-up, will carry an 18-3 mark into tonight's semifinal contest. The Newark quintet will go into the fray with a record of 22 wins and two losses. The two blots on Newark's record were at the hands of Ken Neville's Columbus St. Mary Rams and to Zanesville Rosecrans in a mid-winter upset. The St. Francis team avenged the Columbus loss for the only defeat of the season for the Rams.

LaRue's losses came at the hands of Huntsville in a holiday carnival last winter and to Prospect in the regular Marion County League campaign. The Bulldogs also edged their way to a 57-56 victory in the championship game of the county tournament two weeks ago.

THE ST. FRANCIS squad was one of two seeded teams in the capital event and has been a strong favorite to cop the district crown. Thus far, paced by Bob Franks, the Licking County powerhouse has dumped the Hartford and Chesterville in district action.

LaRue qualified for the semifinals last Saturday with a convincing 74-65 verdict over Hartford in its only tournament assignment. Larry Hickman, 5-11 ace for the Marion County entry, ran wild with a 35-point scoring outburst.

That performance will probably make him a marked man in the Newark game but Dennison still has such big guns as Ray Hosey, Bill Guthery, Keith Cooper and Bob Hughes to loosen the defense.

Meeker Rifle Club Cops Win Over Bowling Green

The Meeker Rifle Club entertained the Bowling Green marksmen Tuesday night and walked off with a 1,419-1,411 verdict.

Scores of the Meeker shooters were: Don Hinton, 290; Allen Dreyer, 285; Wayne Weston, 284; Delbert Rush, 282; and Francis Montgomery, 278.

The Meeker team will travel to Napoleon next Tuesday for its next meet.

14-Game Slate Opens Major League Action

By LARRY MERCHANT
Associated Press Staff Writer

With opening day only a month away, 14 major league teams move into the Grapefruit and Cactus League phase of baseball's spring training today.

Seven exhibition games are on order, including one after-dinner affair between Brooklyn and Milwaukee at Miami. Five other openers are scheduled in Florida: New York Yankees vs. St. Louis Cardinals; Washington Senators vs. Boston Red Sox; Cincinnati Redlegs vs. Chicago White Sox; Detroit Tigers vs. Philadelphia Phillies and Kansas City A's vs. Pittsburgh Pirates.

In the three-team Cactus League, the American League champion Cleveland Indians play the Chicago Cubs at Tucson, Ariz. The world champion New York Giants cool their spikes until tomorrow when they launch their exhibition schedule where they left off in October—against the Indians.

Baltimore, which switched training bases from Arizona to Florida this year, is also idle. The Orioles open with Cincinnati tomorrow.

Some managers will start "experimental" lineups for the inaugurals but most pilots are leading with their aces.

Casey Stengel, starting his seventh season at the Yankee helm, wants a fast look-see at his Baltimore import Bullet Bob Turley. Turley, who came to the Yanks in that big winter deal, will pitch the first three innings against rookie Larry Jackson of the Cardinals.

Managers Chuck Dressen of Washington and Pinky Higgins of Boston are going with a couple of fastballing right-handers, Bob Porterfield and Frank Sullivan. Yearlings Al Schroll and Al Curtis will follow the 6-7 Sullivan to the mound for Boston.

Three rookies will toil for Detroit as Bucky Harris takes charge of the Tigers for the first time. Opposing them for the Phillies will be the big guy himself, Robin Roberts.

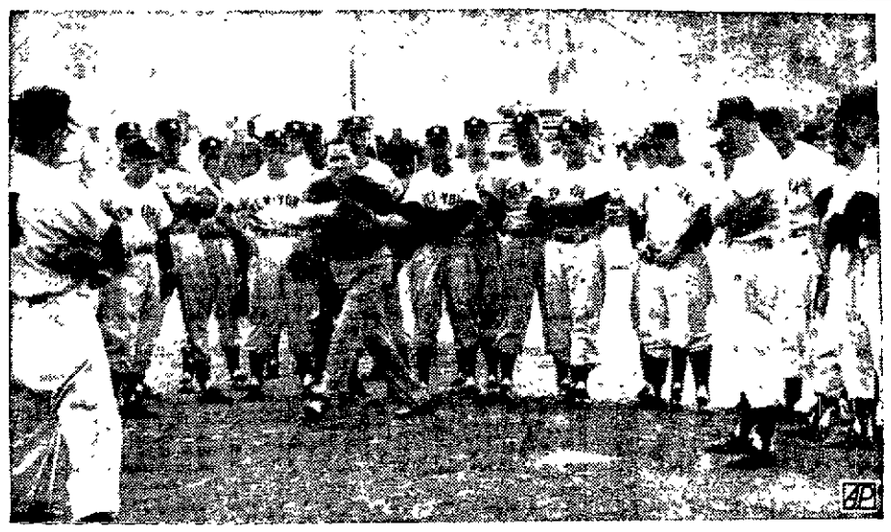
Bob Garver, 19-8 with Denver in 1954, has been given the first three-inning job for Pittsburgh by Fred Haney. Lou Boudreau, another of the managers with new teams, will counter with Marion Fricano, Carl Duser and Bill Oster.

Towering Gene Conley has drawn the starting assignment for Milwaukee and rookie Ed Roebuck, with a highly touted fast ball, for Brooklyn.

Mike Garcia is Al Lopez' choice to start things off for Cleveland against rookie Joe Stanka for Stan Hack's Cubs.

Virgil Trucks (19-12) will be the first of three White Sox pitchers for Mary Marion. Art Fowler (12-10) has the nod for Birdie Tebbetts' Redlegs.

Elbie Nickel, captain of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the NFL, was the captain of the University of Cincinnati football, baseball and basketball teams.



THE UMP SHOWS RULE ABOUT CATCHER. Umpire Ed Hurley steps from behind plate to catch ball during instructions at St Petersburg, Fla., for New York Yankees squad on new baseball rules. He is showing how catcher should call for pitchout on an intentional walk, step from his 43-inch-wide catcher's box, and receive ball from pitcher. Yogi Berra, Yanks catcher, listens at left.

Bowling

Sally Murray rolled 190 and Virginia Eby totaled 504 to set the pace in the Ladies All Star League at Marion Recreation Wednesday. Murray hit 499 while Eby had a 179 game. Other high scores were Joan Groll's 182-478, Mickey Carpenter's 179, Marian Crispin's 179, Elsie Owens' 170, Pearl Snyder's 170, Helen Culp's 491. Triple Service walked off with team honors by cracking 744-2195.

Business Men League keglers at Palace Recreation were topped by Montgomery's 219 and W. Thomas' 571. A total of seven games of 200 or better was posted. F. Schneider rolled 193-552, B. Guy 202-538, D. Moran 192-532, F. Turner 212-523, Bayless 195-522, R. Otto 209-537, C. Klingel 190-530, and P. Schnelker 205.

Houghton Sulky fired 920-2628 to lead the teams.

Men bowlers in the Mom & Pop League were paced by Chuck Burns' 198-553 performance. Opal Stroupe's 193-465 was high among the women. Harry Hammond totaled 535 and Paul Eshman hit 531 while Lois Eshman and Howard Bailey turned in 6-7 splits. Team No. 6 hit 676-1959 for team honors.

D. Perry scattered the pins for a 232-590 count in the Osgood Affiliated League. Other high games and series included B. Gore's 200-579, Bloomingdale's 200-518, Weis' 220-546, Eddy's 209-523, Winston's 201, Wolbert's 200-539, Barnard's 228-533, Jones' 210-538, R. Gorenflo's 514, Croman's 523, Gruber's 506, O'Connell's 512 and Robbins' 501. Team laurels were captured by Alloy with 911-2517.

Whips Songkitrat

Mexico's Macias Captures NBA Bantamweight Crown

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Raul Macias of Mexico, who took more punishment from his fervent fans after it was over than he did from Thailand's Chamrern Songkitrat while he was winning it, is the world bantamweight boxing champion today as far as the National Boxing Assn. is concerned.

Macias won the title, which the state of California firmly refuses to recognize, with a blistering two-fisted assault that caused Referee Fred Apostoli to stop the one-sided scrap at 2:38 of the 11th round last night at the Cow Palace.

A flock of screaming Mexicans clambered into the ring after it was over. Police were unable to stop the mad scramble. Macias, "Little Mouse" to his compatriots, was swallowed up in the blustering throng, to emerge moments later perched askew on willing shoulders.

Anyone who thought bantamweights lacked punching power received as rude a jolt as the Thailander last night. Macias, using a lightning left hook and jab mixed with a bruising right, had Songkitrat on the floor four times, twice in the sixth round and twice more in the 11th.

Macias, unbeaten in 12 pro fights, was in full charge all the way. He lost only one round, the first, on all three cards. Apostoli had it scored 60-50 through the 10 full rounds, Judge Jack Downey 63½ to 46½, and Judge Eddie James 61½ to 48½.

Each weighed 117¾.

Fights Last Night

SAN FRANCISCO—Raul Macias, 117¾, Mexico City, stopped Chamrern Songkitrat, 117¾, Thailand, 11. (for NBA version of world bantamweight title).

TOKYO—Hitoshi Misako, 113½, Japan, outpointed Tanny Campo, 112, Philippines, 12 (for Orient flyweight title).

Marty Marion Seeking Power For White Sox

TAMPA (AP)—There is a disposition on the part of some press oracles this spring to write off the Chicago White Sox, to suggest that they winded themselves chasing the Indians and Yankees the past three years and now are likely to fall back into the pack.

This feeling is not shared by the club's new manager Marty Marion who has made a great recovery from the case of "defeatist complex" which was ascribed to him by the Baltimore owners when they canned him two winters ago. There probably never was anything wrong with Marty that a few good ballplayers couldn't have cleared up.

The former great shortstop believes, as Paul Richards did before him, that the Sox are good enough to go all the way if only one man should get hot at the plate and help Minnie Minoso drive in some runs. He thinks it is that close between his team and the two front runners, and he would like a chance to prove it.

"Few people realize the difference one more good hitter in the lineup can make to a ball club," he said. "Or maybe more of them do after what Willie Mays did for the Giants last season. All I ask is for either George Kell or Walt Dropo to come back with a big year and I'll guarantee to show them something. I think one of them might do it too, the way they've been looking."

Kell, a former American League batting champion, was a spavined horse when trader Frank Lane got him from the Boston Red Sox early last season. Instead of finally solving the club's third-base problem, Kell couldn't run a lick and finally underwent an operation on his right knee in August. It appears to have mended well.

Dropo, a first baseman, was obtained from Detroit during the winter in exchange for Ferris Fain. While Dropo, on his erratic record, would appear to represent a bigger gamble than Kell did, there is a happy feeling in camp that this could be the big fellow's year, especially if the Sox should catch fire and scent World Series money.

DELANEY SIGNED

NEW YORK (AP)—Promoter Tex Sullivan said yesterday Ronnie Delaney of Akron, Ohio, sixth-ranked middleweight, has signed for three television bouts at St. Nicholas Arena. Delaney is slated to meet the winner of next Monday's bout between Milo Savage, Salt Lake City, and Sammy Walker, Springfield, Mass., at St. Nicholas.

Cage Field Thinned to 88 Quintets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio names the first of its high school basketball regional tournament qualifiers tonight.

But the three qualifiers, to be named in a trio of Class A district contests at Kent, don't know where they're going. The northeastern sector will have two four-team regional meets this year, but the sites haven't been selected.

Fighting for the regional spots will be Broadman (18-4) vs Canton Timken, Cleveland Glenville vs Canton McKinley (18-2), and Poland (22-1) vs Akron South (15-2).

Only one Class A game was played last night, Martins Ferry defeated New Philadelphia, 67-53, at Martins Ferry to reach Friday's finale against Steubenville for a northeastern regional spot.

The New Philadelphia loss cut the starting Class A field of 308 down to 43 teams, with only 16 emerging for next week's regionals.

The Class B field of 748 was slashed to 45 in last night's far-flung combat, and plenty of action in both divisions is on tap tonight. Among tonight's features is state champion Hamilton vs Cincinnati Purcell, a game which might halt the hopes of the Big Blue in the lose-and-out series.

Big surprise in Wednesday's Class B set was the elimination of Flushing, which had won 22 of 23. Baltic ran its record to 22-6 with a 71-68 victory over Flushing—a loss which ousted high - scoring Carter Howell of Flushing from contention.

The other Class B hot-shots continued to move along. Lockland Wayne, always a threat in Class B, won its 22nd against a lone loss as it reached the Cincinnati finals with a 72-59 conquest of Indian Hill. Bowersville jumped to a 25-1 record at Xenia with a 64-53 win over Martinsville. Blue Creek made it 24-1 at Celina with a 74-65 victory over Rugged Lima St Rose, and Rio Grande has a 22-1 record after beating Murray City, 73-54, at Athens.

The team emerging from the southwestern regional at Cincinnati has been the team to beat in the Class A sector of the state meet for years.

The district favorites to gain that regional are Springfield Public from the Troy meet, Portsmouth from Athens, Dayton Dunbar from Dayton and Cincinnati Purcell from Cincinnati. But, with favorites being batted out of the running in a series of upsets all along the line, all four could fall by the wayside as darkhorses take over the regional spots.

Kentucky acquired 160 new manufacturing plants, with planned employment totaling 39,778, from January, 1948, to May, 1954.

To Decide Monday

Big Ten Ponders TV Plans Of NCAA for Grid Season

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten is expected to decide Monday whether to go along with the 1955 National Collegiate Athletic Assn. football television program or take steps to televise its own games independently.

Defiance of the NCAA plan would bring possible expulsion of the Big Ten from the organization.

The conference's television committee yesterday studied the NCAA program that was drawn up at a meeting in New York Monday and Tuesday. The plan will be announced by the NCAA Monday.

The Big Ten has been steadfast in demands for free negotiations for TV football sponsors and a regional setup that would provide for appearance of a team twice, once away and once at home.

It was reliably reported that the NCAA plan does not conform exactly to what the Big Ten has sought. Whether it comes close enough for acceptance is the important issue that will be settled Monday in a joint meeting of faculty representatives and athletic directors.

In the meantime, the Big Ten is keeping an official silence.

"All we can say at this time is that a joint meeting of faculty representatives and athletic directors will be held Monday in Chicago," said Bill Reed, assistant athletic commissioner. "Anything more that can be said would only relate to the NCAA plan and we are bound as members of the NCAA not to divulge the plan until it is made public."

Lopez Selects Billy Harrell For Cub Game

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Shortstop Billy Harrell, a former basketball player at Siena College, Memphis, is the only rookie in the Cleveland Indians' lineup Manager Al Lopez has picked for today's exhibition opener against the Chicago Cubs.

Harrell, 26 and 190 pounds, broke in with Cedar Rapids in 1952 as an outfielder. He hit 307 at Indianapolis last year, and Lopez plans to return him to that American Association farm this season for more experience. Eventually he may step into George Strickland's shoes.

Mike Garcia, southpaw Hank Aguirre and Bob Hooper are slated to hurl for the Tribe against Chicago's Bubba Church, Joe Stanka and Don Elston. Sam Dente will be on second base for the Indians in place of Bob Avila who still hasn't signed up.

Princeton Nails Ivy Loop Title, Berth in NCAA

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Staff Writer

Princeton rooters celebrated the Tigers' Ivy League basketball championship today and the automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament that goes with it. But their jubilation may be short-lived for tomorrow Princeton plays defending champion LaSalle in the regional playoffs at Philadelphia.

Princeton put on a second-half surge to crush Columbia 86-69 last night in a league playoff at Rutgers in New Brunswick, N.J., ending the closest Ivy race in the league's 53-year-old history.

The Tigers, Columbia and Penn finished the season in an unprecedented triple tie, each with a 10-4 record. Columbia disposed of Penn in the first playoff game Monday.

Princeton's Hal Haabestad and John Devoe scored 28 and 22 points with superb jump shooting. Chet Forte, Columbia's 5-9 sophomore, kept the Lions in the game with a 19-point output before the Tigers' defenders stopped him cold.

The Tigers, who received a first-round bye in the NCAA Tournament, have won seven of their last eight starts. LaSalle, which downed West Virginia 95-61 Tuesday, has won 10 straight.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market bounced ahead today in a swift recovery from its two-day decline.

Prices were up 1 to 3 points in many areas but especially in the aircraft division which was underfire in the selling of the previous two days.

Volume returned to about average levels at a pace better than three million shares for the day. Yesterday's total was a huge 4,590,000 shares, one of the largest of the year.

For two days the market had been pounded down severely, and just before the close yesterday it started a rally that brought many issues up from their lows and sent others into the plus column.

At the opening today, there was an immediate rush to buy stocks. Twice in the first hour the tape fell behind in reporting on actual dealings on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

Higher stocks included General Dynamics, United Aircraft, Boeing, Chance Vought, Crucible Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, Electric Storage Battery, Southern Railway, Seaboard Railroad, Royal Dutch Petroleum, American Airlines and United Air Lines.

North American Aviation had a block of 8,000 shares up 2 to 55, General Dynamics 7,000 shares up 3¾ at 53, and Douglas Aircraft 1,500 up 1½ at 79.

Ohio Fuel Gas Safety Record Best in Nation

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has been rated as the safest large gas utility company in the nation on the basis of its worker-accident record for 1954, it was announced today by C. L. Baxter, Ohio Fuel local manager in Marion.

The award was made by the National Safety Council in the gas division of its annual safety contest among public utility companies. E. D. Bivens, Ohio Fuel vice president and general manager at Columbus, received notification from Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Safety Council at Chicago. The citation will be commemorated with a plaque issued by the Safety Council.

Since 1938, Ohio Fuel has won repeated recognition for its industrial safety record. In that 17-year period of entry in the Safety Council's Public Utilities Safety Contest, Ohio Fuel has won first place in its division 12 times, second place twice, third place twice and fourth place once.

The award for 1954 came on an Ohio Fuel disabling accident frequency rating of 1.52, or about 1½ disabling accidents per one million man-hours worked. The average rating for larger gas companies was 8.25.

Baxter said the award-winning record was made with 3,690 total employes working 7,888,485 hours for the 12-month period.

Douglas Baldwin, Noted Cleveland Attorney, 78, Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—Arthur Douglas Baldwin, 78, lawyer for more than half a century and former chairman of the Western Reserve University board of trustees, died last night at his home in suburban Bratenahl.

Long active in civic affairs, he was president of the Cleveland Welfare Federation from 1929 to 1933 and a former chairman of the Cleveland Hospital Service Assn. board.

He was a member of the executive committee of the Sherwin-Williams Co., one of the nation's largest paint producers. His wife, who died in 1941, was the daughter of Edward P. Williams, one-time partner in the firm.

In 1911-12, Baldwin served with Judge Daniel Pabst of Crestline on a commission revising Ohio laws relating to children.

He received an honorary doctorate of humanities from Western Reserve University in 1939 and in the following year won the Chamber of Commerce medal for distinguished service to Cleveland.

New Citizen Speaks On Freedom Before K. of C. Group Here

A moving talk on freedom and his experiences in Europe was given by John Orlowski, a member of the group, at the Tuesday night meeting of the Knights of Columbus in the club rooms.

Prayer, the speaker said, helped bring him safely to this country. Orlowski told of some of his experiences in Europe and how he became a United States citizen. He told the group that since he has been in this country, people have asked him how he feels about his new home, but, he explained, that it is too difficult to describe how and why he likes the United States. He is very proud of his citizenship here, he said. Orlowski became a U. S. citizen in a hearing conducted Monday in Marion County Common Pleas Court.

During the business session, Al DeSimone was elected warden to fill the unexpired term of Herbert Hertenstein, who is moving out-of-town.

Final plans were discussed for the K of C Family Communion to be held at the 7:30 Sunday Mass and members, their wives and families are requested to attend.

Following a report by the membership chairman, Joseph M. Dunn, it was decided to hold the first degree initiation on March 22. A report on the state bowling tournament was given by Steve Byrnes and Ray Robbins. Seven teams from the Marion Council bowled in the team event at Olentangy Village in Columbus.

The meeting was conducted by Charles R. Dunn, deputy grand knight, in the absence of George Baron, grand knight, who was attending a special K of C youth seminar in Mansfield conducted by the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus. Thomas Andrews, another member of the Marion K of C, also attended the seminar.

Labor Forces In South Show Huge Increases

RICHMOND, Va. (UP) — There is a big race on in the South and the stake is "labor."

The Fifth Federal Reserve Bank here has furnished some figures that support the trend of a southward movement of inudstry, thursty for Dixie's rapidly growing labor force and optimistic about economic conditions.

In the Fifth Federal Reserve District, which comprises North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia, the labor force is expected to expand by an average of 88,000 persons annually through 1975. During the 1940's its growth accounted for 11 per cent of the national increase of 7.3 million persons.

Reports from these states indicate a vast movement of industry with million dollar investments and million dollar payrolls.

In Virginia for the 18-month period ended June 30, 1954, industrial expansion and modernization entailed investments of $317,000,000 and added an estimated 15,000 new jobs and $50,000,000 to payrolls.

In North Carolina, there were 184 new and expanded industries with total investments of $89,223,000 for the first nine months of 1954. The industries provide a potential of 13,200 new jobs with an expected annual payroll of $31,731,240.

Other southern states reported a somewhat similar influx of badly needed industry.

But in the back of the minds of state officials who are quite familiar with the problems of unemployment is this doubt: Can the increase of industry in the South keep pace with the increase in the labor force?

The Fifth Federal Reserve District's labor force grew faster than that of the nation from 1940 to 1950.

Population last year continued to increase at approximately the same rate that it grew in each state from 1940 to 1953. The average of 10 months' total non-agricultural employment in the states declined from the average in 1953.

Manufacturing declined 7.2 per cent in the United States, but only 5 per cent in the five states, attesting to fewer hard goods industries more vulnerable to business fluctuations. On the other hand, financial employment increased less, and the other industry groups, such as mining, transportation, construction and trade, declined more.

The increase in population points up the need for growing employment opportunities, particularly in basic industries that create new jobs in service industries and multiply income within communities.

HEIFERS TAGGED

OMAHA (INS)—Orange, numbered ear tags to indicate brucellosis-vaccinated heifers are gaining wide acceptance by Western farmers and ranchers as well as state and federal inspectors. It speeds up the handling of such animals and saves an estimated $100 a load in veterinary fees, shrinkage and extra feed. It requires at least three days to test heifers for interstate shipment if they have not been identified as officially-vaccinated in some way.

Favor Exports Over Arms

Ruhr Industrialists Back West's Policy in Germany

DUSSELDORF (NANA) — The dark-paneled room is filled with overstuffed leather chairs, the inevitable hodge-podge of German bric-a-brac, and the smoke from expensive cigars. The walls are lined with leather-bound books and a fabulous collection of Meissen china. In the next room, a maid in a white cap is clearing away the remains of a delicious lunch. Through the window, you can look out over the smoking chimneys, twisted rail sidings and the blank-walled factory buildings that form the heart of the Ruhr steel industry.

Your hosts are three top members of this industry. The idea behind the hospitality is simple: to give this reporter a clear picture of how German industrialists feel about things going on today in Germany and the world.

In the course of the lunch and the talk that ranged from Germany to Korea and back again, a few rather clear impressions emerged.

THE FIRST IS AN impression of self-confidence on the part of your hosts. In their quiet-spoken, well-bred way, these men seem sure of their power, importance and the rightness of their opinions. It's no illusion either. Much of what Germany has done since the end of the war—the swift recovery from ruin the growth to a new position of power and prestige—has been due to the will and the energy of German industrialists.

These men are confident of being able to keep Germany on a steady political track. The disturbing new ideas that one hears about so often don't go very deep, they say. The great majority of Germans are much too hard-headed and practical to go astray.

Opposition to German rearmament, you are told, is a combination of Communist propaganda and political opportunism by the Socialists and trade unions.

"Don't worry too much about the things you hear young people say," says one industrialist. "Youngsters are always making a fuss about something or other. The ones who are making most of the trouble now are the older ones who remember the war. The younger ones who will actually be conscripted in two years will be different."

THERE IS LESS confidence, however, about another German problem. Each of your hosts believes firmly in cooperating with the French. None has much hope of actually being able to do it. You gather, in fact, that the political outlook in France is worse than you had imagined.

"For us," said one, "the most disturbing thought is that Germany might be surrounded by communism to the West as well as to the East. This is a possibility that we cannot afford to overlook in planning ahead."

The second general impression of your hosts is one of carefully modulated ambition: the kind of restless dissatisfaction of men who have done much and who plan to do a great deal more. It's a go-getting spirit which shapes their opinions on almost any given subject. It seems to boil down to the slightly reminiscent formula that "What's good for the Ruhr steel industry is good for Germany."

VIEWED FROM THIS perspective, a number of German problems resolve themselves into clear and easy answers. Since the future lies in close economic and political ties with the West, German rearmament is a necessary gesture. An even more important task is to preserve a government in Bonn with which the Western Allies can get along, which believes in the maximum of free enterprise and which relies heavily on the support of German big business. The question of German reunification is pushed firmly into the background.

There are, to be sure, some limits to this spirit of western cooperation. The subject of German industry's contribution to the western armament effort is cautiously skirted.

On the other hand, there is really little need for these men to restate their arguments on this point. The firm opposition of German industrialists to any real revival of the German armaments industry is already a matter of record. The major Ruhr firms have long since served notice on the federal government in Bonn that they would be unwilling to devote more than 10 per cent of their production to armaments. From the industrialists' point of view, it would be far more sensible for Germany to buy whatever arms are needed over and above what may be forthcoming from the United States, rather than try to make them at home.

SO FAR AS THE German businessman is concerned, this is simply a matter of good economics. Why should they go through the expensive business of converting their factories for defense production, they argue, when the demand for armaments is to be so limited and the profits so small? Most make no secret of their hope to continue concentrating entirely on port trade. Ironically enough, improving Germany's booming ex-their fear of international control of armaments stems from the thought that Germany might be asked to make too many, rather than too few weapons.

If pressed on the point, industrialists contend that this is not a matter of pure selfishness on their part. The best contribution that German industry can make to European security, they say, is to assure the general prosperity and high living standards of West Germany. These things, they argue, are a better defense against the advancement of communism than all the weapons that the Ruhr can turn out.

THERE IS ANOTHER point, less frequently mentioned. The opposition to converting any substantial part of German industry for defense production is led by Alfred Krupp, still the greatest name in the German industrial world. Krupp's memory is excellent. He remembers quite vividly the stretch he served in prison after the war when the Allies tagged him as a criminal. The specification was that he had manufactured arms.

A good many other Ruhr industrialists who are being urged to go into arms production today are held back by similar memories.

This is the third impression made by these men who mean so much to Germany and who want so much to be understood. Underneath the selfconfidence and the ambition is something close to fear—or caution, or conservatism or prudence, if you prefer.

Whatever you call it, these are men who in their time have taken risks and got badly hurt. That they have survived and returned to positions of great wealth and political power has not completely restored their personal sense of security.

The risks to be taken in the future will be carefully calculated and, for all the self-assurance, the bets will be carefully hedged.

And yet, with these qualifications, there are few people in Germany who as a group offer more wholehearted support of western policy as it is formed in Washington.

Wired for Eggs

WOOD RIVER, Ill. (AP)—Coaxing an egg out of a gas tank of an automobile is about as tough as putting toothpaste back into a tube, but Ray Esterlein did it. Someone dropped an unbroken egg into the gasoline spout of his car, and it remained undetected until a filling station attendant, discovered it.

The egg was lodged six to seven inches down the spout and had to be removed intact or it would foul up the engine. A piece of adhesive tape on the end of a prod failed.

A bent wire finally did the trick, but Esterline says it was an exhausting job.

Dean & Barry House Paint
makes your home look like a million

new Poly-Lin discovery keeps paint jobs looking much better longer

Poly-Lin is the wonderful new super-processed linseed oil that gives Dean & Barry house paint extra beauty, extra durability. And this means a scientifically improved house paint that fights-off premature aging and dull-out, keeps its good looks far longer to save important dollars for you.

Here's Why: The structure of regular linseed oil used in conventional house paints is loose and open. It lacks the necessary strength to give maximum resistance to weather and wear. Not so with Poly-Lin. Here the linseed oil is super-processed to give it a tighter, stronger, tougher structure.

That's why Dean & Barry house paint makes your home look like a million and keeps it looking better far longer. Good news, too: There's no extra cost for the extra beauty and longer life Poly-Lin gives. Now available in a much wider range of new and modern colors. See for yourself soon—or ask your painter-decorator to come in.

Regular Linseed Oil

Here is what regular linseed oil looks like under a microscope. Notice its open and loose structure. It stands to reason that there is less strength to fight-off weather and wear, premature aging.

Dean & Barry Poly-Lin

Here you see super-processed Poly-Lin. Notice its tighter, stronger, locked-together structure. That's why Dean & Barry House paint with Poly-Lin lasts longer, looks better much longer.

Poly-Lin is the Dean & Barry trade name for 100% pure polymeric linseed oil

Death Claims Veteran Beauty Shop Operator

Mrs. Burton T. Moore In Business With Her Sister for Fifty Years

A veteran Marion beauty operator, Mrs. Ethel Moore, 69, died today.

With her twin sister, Mrs. Esther Lett, she shared honors of 50 years as a beautician at a celebration in October. She was the wife of Burton T. Moore of 207 Carhart St.

Admitted to Marion General Hospital Feb. 28, she died there at 10:10 a.m. today.

Going into business here Oct. 13, 1904, as the Vogue Beauty Shop, the sisters were at that time Misses. Ethel and Esther Gardner of near Cardington. Theirs was the first beauty parlor in Marion. They learned their profession in Columbus and during the years they made trips abroad and to New York City and other centers to increase their knowledge and keep abreast of fashions in hair styling and other beauty care.

At present the business is conducted as Lett's Beauty Shop at 133 N. State St. The original beauty shop was at 123 S. State St., then in 1916 larger quarters was secured on E. Church St. in the building occupied now by Drs. Frank V. Murphy Jr. and James A. McGlew. In 1920, Mrs. Lett and Mrs. Moore moved to the present location.

Among the "regular" patrons Mrs. Moore and her sister served were the Warren G. Hardings, and they had as customers many theatrical and opera stars who came to Marion for programs at the old opera house.

Mrs. Moore spent two years in Paris, in Austria, and elsewhere in Europe studying with top beauty specialists. She was a trained masseuse.

Before coming to Marion with her sister she lived at South Woodbury in Morrow County where the twins were reared by their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gardner. Their father was a slave. They were 69 in January.

Mrs. Moore was a member of the Marion Chapter of the Hairdressers Guild and of the Jessie A. Gardner Federated Club.

She was a member of St. Mary Catholic Church.

When she and Mrs. Lett were honored by the Marion hairdressers in celebration of their fiftieth anniversary both were presented

Tells Commons of H-Bomb Terror

Churchill Sums Up Atomic Age Perils

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—No one has summed up better the peril of mankind in the atomic age than Sir Winston Churchill in a recent speech to the House of Commons on the terrors of the hydrogen bomb.

Churchill's own lifetime spans the transition from the old-fashioned soldier—who, on foot or on horseback, could try to kill only one or a few of the enemy at a time—to the soldier of today who can rain down death on millions from the sky.

Being a man of action and not finding it soon enough, there was a period in his early days when he thought it a "pity that it all had to be make-believe" and that wars between nations had come to an end.

He had overestimated the ability of nations to settle things peacefully. He had his first military service, a dull one, with the British cavalry in India in 1895. He lived to have a hand in directing two world wars.

IN WORLD WAR II the weapons the antagonists produced—until the 1945 atomic bomb explosion—were the peak of all man's efforts to devise instruments for eliminating human beings.

In that half century between 1895 and 1945 Churchill saw weapons progress, if that's the right word, from rifle and cavalry to machine guns, tanks, bazookas and even planes that dropped conventional TNT on factories and battlefields.

India may have been dull for him in the 19th century. He didn't regard as dull the somber days of 1940 when the Germans had overrun Western Europe, were smashing Britain with their stukas, and threatened to invade the British Isles.

KNOWING FULLY the power of the Nazi armament, Churchill looked across the English Channel and, undaunted, told his countrymen: "We shall defend our island. Whatever the cost may be, we shall fight on the beaches . . . in the fields . . . streets . . . hills; we shall never surrender."

That was 15 years ago. Since that time the United States and Russia have developed the greatest of all weapons—the hydrogen bomb. And on Feb. 15 the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission issued a report. It said the radioactive fallout from an H-bomb could cover an area almost as big as New Jersey.

LAST WEEK Churchill spoke to his countrymen again, this time in the House of Commons. He said nothing then about fighting on hills or beaches or in the streets. He talked of the power of the bomb. The age of man-to-man fighting had long since passed. Now a few men in planes, releasing bombs, could destroy a nation.

And Churchill, like a man cornered and searching for some escape for mankind itself, said: "What ought we to do? Which way shall we turn to save our lives and the future of the world?"

Then, still undaunted, after reviewing the American and Russian achievements with the new bombs Churchill made it plain Britain wasn't going to sit like a duck on a rock if a hydrogen war started.

He wanted in on that too. He said Britain would make hydrogen bombs.

Air Force Academy Uniforms Will Be Sharp, Designer Says

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cadets of the new Air Force Academy can relax. They won't be wearing togas of armor, even though Cecil B DeMille is designing their uniforms.

This I ascertained from a talk with the pioneer film maker in his office. The place was filled with painting of uniforms from past pictures like "Samson and Delilah" and his future and most costly epic, "The Ten Commandments."

The producer-director showed off a handsome painting of an Egyptian in battle uniform.

"Now this is what the Pharaoh wore and what he will produce for the picture," he remarked. "Notice how the wings envelop the chest, forming a protective armor for him. This is perhaps the first use of wings on a uniform."

He said with a sly smile: "But that isn't the kind of thing we will design for the air academy."

Last month, Lt. Gen. Hubert Harmon, superintendent of the new academy near Colorado Springs, Colo., announced that DeMille would design uniforms for the cadets.

"Our men will be the best dressed and sharpest-looking men ever to be in the uniform of the U. S. military service," Harmon said.

Actual design of the uniforms is still a military secret. DeMille has assigned four of his experts to work on the details. All are service veterans. They are: Henry Wilcoxen, Navy; John Jensen, Army Engineers; Arold Frieberg, infantry; Ralph Jesters, Air Force. DeMille will combine their efforts and present the finished product for the approval of Air Force brass.

"A uniform is a very special thing," DeMille opined. "It must set a man apart from the rest of humanity. It must be handsome, attractive, yet thoroughly masculine. There can be no scent of perfume about it. It has to have the quality of making people stop and remark at what a strong and good-looking man the wearer is."

Galion Motorist Fined For 2 Traffic Charges

GALION — In municipal court Wednesday, Mayor Francis C. Schalip fined Francis G. Nelson, 31, of Galion, on two charges as the result of a traffic accident Tuesday night.

Nelson was attempting a left turn from Harding Way East on to East St. and turned in front of a car driven by Robert H. Caris of Galion. Both cars were damaged. Nelson was cited for failure to yield the right of way and was fined $10 and costs on this charge. The second charge was for driving with improper license. He had only a temporary permit and no licensed driver with him in the car, police said. On this charge, a 30-day jail sentence was suspended.

The mayor suspended a $5 fine and costs and five-day jail sentence for Kenneth Bechdolt, 54, of Walla Walla, Wash. Bechdolt was charged with being drunk and disorderly. A $15 bond was forfeited by Al Jenson, Indiana truck driver, when he failed to appear for a hearing before Mayor Schalip, Wednesday. Jenson was arrested by state highway patrolmen when he failed to stop for a Leesville school bus that was discharging pupils Tuesday afternoon on Route 30-N.

Clues Reported Few in Service Station Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police today reported slim leads in Tuesday's early morning slaying of Don Keyes, 24, while on duty at a service station.

They sought the drivers of two cars reported seen in the area at the time Keyes was wounded in the head by a shotgun blast.

Police also sought to establish the identify of a man seen using a telephone at the rear of the station close to the time of the murder.

Investigators yesterday released Robert Sevens, 17, after he took a lie detector test in connection with the holdup-killing.

They said Stevens, who lives near the service station, had nothing to do with the crime.

Funeral services were scheduled tomorrow for Keyes, an Ohio State University student who worked part-time at the station. He was married and had two children.

The Checker Oil Co., Keyes' employer, yesterday offered $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer. A Columbus funeral director, Robert Feil, added $50 to the reward money.

Battelle Institute Gets Shipment of Deadly Cobalt-60

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Radioactive "hot" cobalt-60 was transferred in a delicate operation to the bottom of a water tank yesterday at Battelle Memorial Institute.

The transfer of the cobalt tubes had to be done with care since they emit gamma rays, fatal to humans.

The cobalt-60 was encased in a lead container brought by truck from Oak Ridge, Tenn. When transferred to the bottom of the tank, the surrounding water acts as a shield to protect laboratory workers from the deadly rays.

Ohio Reporter Says Matusow Diary 'Phony'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio newspaperman John J. Edmiston says a diary episode in Harvey Matusow's forthcoming book is demonstrably false.

Edmiston told Senate investigators yesterday the episode, centering on the morning before Matusow's first testimony before the House Un - American Activities Committee, indicates "this diary is a phony."

Edmiston told the Internal Security subcommittee, headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) the book quotes a purported entry in Matusow's diary for Feb. 6, 1952, as saying that Matusow "made some coffee."

The Middletown, Ohio, man testified there was no coffee or anything to make it with in their hotel suite.

The Senate group seeks to establish when Matusow lied and when he spoke truthfully in testimony before congressional Red probers.

Edmiston and his wife, Martha, testified they worked inside the Communist Party for the FBI in 1940 and 1941.

They said Matusow informed them in 1951 he was a former Red who wanted to tell all, and gave them a statement of his experience in the party.

Mrs. Edmiston said, "It was a very meager little experience within the party. We thought he was arrogant in presuming he would become a national character on the basis of it. He thought he would be a movie star."

Mrs. Joseph Davies Wins Divorce From Ex-U.S. Diplomat

GOODING, Idaho (AP)—Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, who accompanied her ambassador husband on his "Mission to Moscow" just before World War II, ended her 19-year-marriage to him in this little southern Idaho town yesterday.

Dist. Judge D. H. Sutphen granted a final decree of divorce to Mrs. Marjorie Merriweather Post Davies after she filed a complaint charging the ex-ambassador with extreme mental cruelty.

Mrs. Davies, 68, had been staying in nearby Sun Valley since Jan. 25 to establish residence. She entrained for New York yesterday afternoon.

Davies, 79, was U.S. ambassador to Russia from 1936 to 1938. He told of his experiences in the best-selling "Mission to Moscow."

No property settlement or alimony was involved in the divorce, and the couple had no children by their union. Each had three grown daughters by a previous marriage.

2 Suspects Held In Waynesville Bank Robbery

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The FBI says it has found $5,700 in the home of two suspects arrested in Tuesday's robbery of the Waynesville National Bank in Warren County.

M. W. McFarlin, agent-in-charge of the Cincinnati FBI office, said the money was found several hours after the arrest yesterday of Denver Wells, 32, and Joe Crafton, 21.

Both pleaded innocent when arraigned on federal bank robbery charges yesterday. U.S. Commissioner Charles Ozias ordered them held under $25,000 bond each pending a preliminary hearing March 17.

The Waynesville bank was robbed at noon Tuesday by two men who forced four employes and two customers to lie on the floor. They scooped up $12,000 and fled in a car.

The FBI said the pair was traced through part of a license number on the getaway car.

Riverlake Belt Decision Likely By Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Earnings on the controversial bill to grant public utility status to cargo-hauling belt conveyors ended last night in the House Commerce and Transportation Committee.

A decision on whether the measure ever will reach the House floor for a vote probably will come next week.

Right now, it looks like a 50-50 bet.

The final hearing was held with former Rep. Newton B. Chapman, a Geauga County Republican, as the final witness. He is an attorney representing Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, Inc., in its third attempt to get a grant of eminent domina from the Legislature.

Riverlake, if it is permitted to seize property—after paying for it—for a right of way, plans to build a 100-mile belt conveyor from Cleveland to East Liverpool. It would haul iron ore from Lake Erie to steel points in northeastern Ohio and carry coal from the Ohio River up to Lake Erie for shipment to other Erie points and for trans - shipment up the Great Lakes.

In 1949 and in 1951, Riverlake made similar bids for public utility status. Both times its bills were stuck in committee. There never has been a floor vote in either House of the General Assembly on its proposal.

The House committee has given the measure 10 hearings this session. But committee observers contended the hearings have not changed a single vote in the 19-member committee. Observers say practically every member had his mind made up on how he was going to vote before hearings started.

Local Legion Will Observe Its Anniversary

Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, will celebrate the 36th anniversary of the founding of the Legion with an informal "open house" Tuesday, March 15, at the Dugout.

Plans for this were made at a meeting of the post Tuesday night in the Dugout.

The occasion will be a reunion of all former and present members, veterans from World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict. Wives of members also will attend and music and songs will provide entertainment. Rooms of the Dugout have been redecorated especially for this event.

The past bowling team was recognized for having gained first place in the first week's activities of a three-week state Legion bowling tournament at Dayton. Members of the team are J. A. Dripps, Gene Walkins, Bob Reidenbaugh, Wayne Carpenter and Gene Faulkner. Fred Thacker, also of the Marion post, bowled with the state commander's team.

Plans for the Junior Legion baseball program were outlined by Noble Huffman, manager, who has named as coaches Max Roseberry and Donald Kay. Plans were made to attend a Sixth District conference Sunday at Utica. The group will leave the Dugout at 8 a.m.

Howard Sines, vice commander, announced a fish fry for members and their wives to be held March 18 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Dugout. The date of March 20 was announced for county-wide initiation of Legion Auxiliary women at the Dugout.

Fred Thacker gave a talk concerning a national security bill which is before Congress now, which would provide that all youths of military age serve some time with the armed forces. He urged that all members and friends write to their Congressman asking him to vote for passage of the bill.

Dennis Malloy, vice commander in charge of membership, announced membership to date totals 615. He also announced a dinner for the membership workers will be held Sunday, March 27, at the Dugout, marking the end of the drive.

Four teen-age Marion youths Wednesday admitted throwing rocks through windows of a building at the Malo Brothers Junkyard, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Firm in Prospect Completes Its First Mobile Home

Shop's Owner Schedules Open House Program For This Weekend

A small, but ambitious, company in Prospect has just completed its first "home on wheels."

The infant industry, known as the Gaster Mobile Homes, is owned by a former Marionite, Ralph Gaster. The company opened shop in a onetime hardware store just last April and this week finished its first mobile home, a 45-foot, three-room and bath unit. It's mostly a three-man proposition with Gaster and Ralph Redmon of Prospect doing much of the assembling, and Fred Gehm of Prospect helping out on the interior work.

Probably no one is more qualified to design and build mobile homes than Ralph Gaster, since he and his wife spent some five years living in trailers. As an aeronautical engineer, Gaster was employed by engineering firms in various parts of the country and spent most of his time moving from city to city. The easiest way to have a home when you're on the move, Gaster decided, is to have a home you can take with you. The mobile home was ideal, he concluded.

EVEN BEFORE his experience with trailer living, Gaster had considered building a mobile unit. It was about 1935 when the thought first entered his mind. He attempted to convert a panel truck body into a trailer, but, somehow, with the nationwide depression, the idea was discarded before the project matured.

After gaining first-hand information by living in a mobile home, Gaster wondered why he couldn't build a unit, the kind he would like to call home. Last April he decided the time was ripe and he bought a 40 by 200-foot building on Prospect's main street. By the time July rolled around, he'd started work on the first Gaster mobile.

The 9,500-pound infant is almost ready for its debut now. The Gasters plan to introduce it this weekend, in fact. Open house will be held at the shop all day Saturday and at noon on Sunday.

The Gaster mobile is credited with two "firsts." It is the first mobile home made of aluminum bonded to plywood and also the first to use Goodyear vinyl tile.

The mobile home stands 45 feet long, regulation eight feet wide and has a ceiling height of seven feet. The two doors are Dutch style, aluminum at the bottom and frosted glass at the top, with panels which open to reveal screening.

The bonded aluminum, of which the mobile unit is fashioned, is purchased by the Prospect company in sheets four by eight or four by twelve feet. The sheets are cut to size at the Prospect shop and bolted together over vapor seal paper and the metal and wooden frame of the trailer. The metal frame was designed for Gaster by the Marion Metal Products Co. Slob and Bierce Welding Shop did all welding on the trailer and Carl Stief of Marion did the exterior painting.

FIBRE GLASS insulation, two inches of it, is used in the side walls, roof and floor of the trailer to keep out heat or cold, as the case may be. The numerous windows in the trailer are double paned and designed to withstand extreme hot or cold weather. The trailer has an in-the-floor heating system powered by a compact furnace which fits into a small closet and uses fuel oil. If the customer desires, he may have air conditioning and built-in television in his mobile home at additional cost.

Room by room, the trailer includes: living room, furnished with a hide-a-bed sofa, floor lamps, lounge chair, tables and draperies and vinyl tile flooring; kitchen, featuring a built-in sink with garbage disposal, formica topped table and four chairs, frost - free nine cubic foot refrigerator and gas range; bedroom, with twin or double beds, built-in vanity, night stands, draperies and venetian blinds; and bath, which features a large tub and shower combination and vinyl tile walls. The walls and ceiling of the bedroom and living room are done in silver birch stain.

In addition to five closets, the trailer has built-in cupboards throughout.

This first project of the Gaster Mobile Homes is painted outside in coral and gray.

The "home on wheels" today is a far cry from some of the industry's earlier products, Gaser agrees. In 1941, the average length for a trailer was 20 feet. In included a gasoline stove and was without a permanent bed. Even 10 years ago, the mobile home was still a two-room unit.

A SORT OF self-educated engineer, Gaster credits a lot of his interest in engineering to the days at Harding High School when he took vocational shop courses. Most of the mechanical ability which he now possesses came from practical experience and some avid book reading.

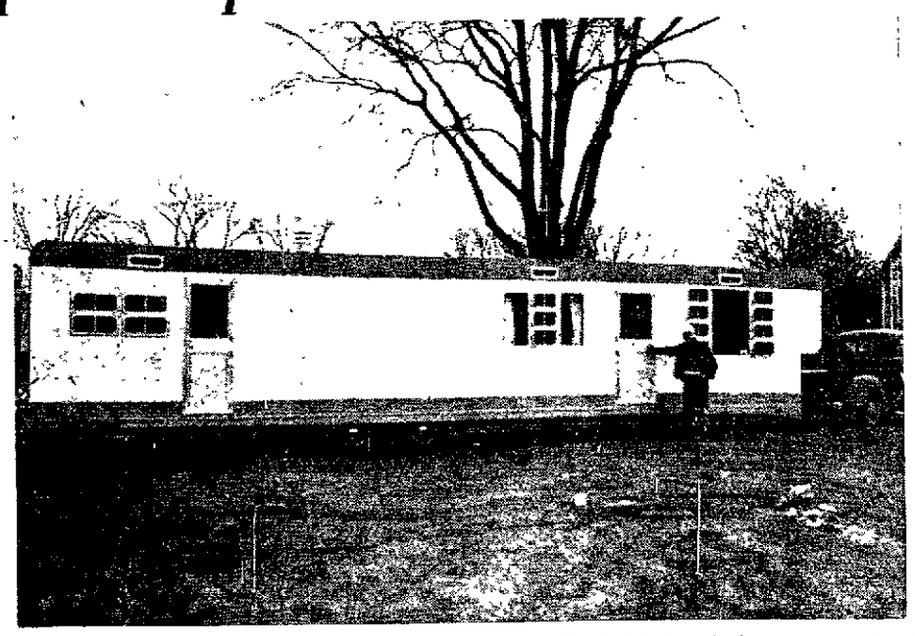
Gaster, his wife, two daughters and their dog, Muggs, live in an apartment above the newly-opened shop. Before moving to Prospect, Gaster was stationed at Middletown and employed by a Detroit engineering firm.

In Marion about 1946, Gaster owned an excavating firm. His brother, Dale, is associated in Marion in a coal company and excavating business and his mother, Mrs. Bertha Gaster, is also associated in the coal firm.

Frequently, the Gasters catch a good case of "wanderlust" and sometimes they wish that they were back in their mobile home and on the move.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gaster claim that you meet the nicest and most interesting people when you move from one trailer park to another. Many of the parks are becoming pretty luxurious living with their private swimming pools, playgrounds for the children, a large lot for each trailer and such recreational facilities as shuffleboard and tennis courts.

One thing, the Gasters agreed, when you're a mobile home resident, you have "friends all over the country."



GASTER MOBILE'S 45-FOOT 'INFANT.' The small Prospect firm's initial mobile home was completed this week.

UPPER: Ralph Redmon, who helped assemble the trailer and did much of the carpentry in the unit, stands beside the mobile home.

LOWER: Ralph Gaster, owner of the firm, inspects the gas range in the kitchen of the mobile home. Wood panels and cupboards throughout the trailer are finished in a silver birch stain.

Spring's First Flowers Bloom

Warm Days Bring Out the Crocuses

Many signs of spring have come into evidence the past few days in this section of the country as temperatures climbed into the 60s during the day.

Early spring flowers, tulips and crocuses, are reported up by many residents. In the yard of the caretaker, Ronald McGinty, at Garfield Park today, many crocuses were reported in bloom. Mrs. McGinty said there are "lots of them" each year in white, yellow, purple and purple and white combinations.

Wednesday in Marion, the mercury reached a high of 62 and dropped to only 40 during the night. At noon today, the temperature recorded at the local weather station was 60.

The high was expected to be in the 50s today and showers are forecast to begin tonight. The prediction for Friday is rather cloudy and mild, possibly a few showers.

Family

honor of the oldest son who had been killed.

The next year, the family was evacuated from their Magdeburg home because of Allied bombings. They moved to an agricultural community called Hadmersleben—and learned later that their Magdeburg home was destroyed in an Allied bombing raid.

By this time the elder Klaus had been pressed into service as an interpreter in the interrogation of captured Allied fliers.

GOOD NEWS came to the family in 1945 when Roy came running into the house one day in May and said he had seen the first of the advancing American armies approaching Hadmersleben.

But their joy was short lived. Two months later the area was turned over to the Russian army as part of the Soviet control zone.

"That was truly a dark day for us," recalls Mrs. Klaus. "While the Americans were there, we got everything we wanted and food was ample," she adds.

The Russians took over at midnight one night. The next morning they closed all the bread shops and took most of the available food supply for their army. "For weeks after that we lived on nothing but potato soup, morning, noon and night," Mrs. Klaus said.

Finally in late 1945, the elder Klaus called his family together and told them, "We must go away from here. We must go into the Western zones where there is a little more food."

Accordingly, he and Roy slipped across the border in November, 1945 and went to Bremerhaven. With their knowledge of English, both soon obtained positions as sign painters with the U. S. Army. In a few months, the necessary "arrangements," were made to slip the rest of the family out of the Eastern zone and the family settled down together in Bremerhaven.

ROY BEGAN studying his English and in 1949 he enlisted in the U. S. Army and took his basic training at a camp in Marlburg. Five months later he "volunteered" for transfer to the U. S. and was sent to Fort Sill, Okla. where he undertook training with the corps of engineers.

In 1950, he was sent to the Marshall Islands. Later he was sent to Korea with the 453rd Engineers and remained there for 14 months after which he was returned to Camp Atterbury, Ind., where he was honorably discharged in 1952.

Meanwhile, in Germany, Robert was getting anxious to enlist in the U. S. Army. He tried in Germany but his English was too poor to pass the necessary tests. So he arranged to work his way to America as an assistant steward on the USS Southport. After the ship docked at Savannah, Ga. in September, 1951, he went to New York City.

Eric Jr., too, had been busy in Germany making arrangements to come to the U. S.

Through a former Miami school teacher and her acquaintance with Miss Mary Helen Fretts of Delaware, he ended up in October, 1950, on the farm of A. H. Newhouse of near Delaware who had wanted to bring over a foreign family to help with farming.

When Robert got to N. Y., he found out that Eric had arrived in Delaware and a short time later came to live with him.

ROBERT STILL had hopes of entering the U. S. Army, and finally did enlist—with Delaware Recruiter Arthur Sprankel, who had played "soldier" as a boy with the eldest Klaus boy when both lived in Marietta.

Robert was sent to Fort Knox, Ky., for training, and by August, 1951, was on his way overseas to serve his entire three-year enlistment in Germany with the U.S. Army of Occupation.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Klaus were cutting through the red tape themselves and late in 1953 got permission to re-emigrate to America and bring with them Rosemarie and Gerhardt.

They arrived in New York about the same time in January last year that Robert was getting his discharge at Camp Kilmer, N. J. Roy, who had gone to St. Louis to stay with an aunt after his discharge, had since moved to Delaware to be with his brother Eric.

After the parents arrived in New York and Robert got his discharge they, too, came to Delaware to join Eric and Roy.

That was in January, 1954. It was the first time in 12 years all the family was together.

Last November Mr. and Mrs. Klaus, Rosemarie and the three youngest sons moved to Marion, while Eric Jr. and his family stayed in Delaware.

Mr. Klaus and the three oldest boys now operate an interior decorating business. They are presently engaged in decorating the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation.

The father, Roy and Robert have become devotees of model railroading. Starting almost from scratch last November, they since have built a complete model railroad in the basement of their residence. Included in the layout are a number of diesel and steam locomotive trains, a roundhouse, marshalling yard, tunnels, complete controls and even a street car.

The elder Klaus did most of the carpentry for the layout, Roy built many of the buildings and did most of the electrical wiring and Robert helped with the electrical wiring and did the decorating.

Red Cross Board Hears Report On Disaster Work in Flood Area

A report on the work being done by the American Red Cross in the flood areas in Ohio and other disaster stricken states was given by Lowell Douce, disaster chairman of the Marion County Chapter, at the monthly meeting of the board of directors in Hotel Harding Wednesday.

Hardest hit were Logan County in West Virginia and Johnson County in Kentucky. A Red Cross disaster shelter has been established in Logan County where 225 families are being cared for. Eleven disaster specialists have been sent to the stricken area from Eastern Area Headquarters of the Red Cross and chapters were alerted in river towns from Portsmouth, O. to the Mississippi River, in preparation for possible floods, Douce reported.

Tribute was paid Jane A. Delano in recognition of her birthday anniversary which is this month. Miss Delano organized the national committee on Red Cross nursing services in 1905 and served as its first chairman. Later she arranged classes in home care of the sick and in 1912 she resigned from all her duties to give full time as a volunteer in building up the Red Cross nursing service.

Melvin G. Weston, blood program chairman, announced the March visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit here next Wednesday and Thursday and urged the members to visit the center and also aid in recruiting volunteer donors. During the month of February 105 pints of blood were provided without charge to patients in the Marion General Hospital, his report showed.

A course in home care of the sick sponsored by the chapter and taught by Miss Esther Mautz, a registered nurse, has just been completed by a large class and an instructors course in home care of the sick will be held in April, it was announced.

Two classes in first aid are being continued, one the class being held in connection with the adult education program instructed by John Langmaid and Mrs. Carole Moore, and the other a class for members of the highway patrol auxiliary, instructed by Robert Brown.

Volunteer services reports were as follows: administration, two persons gave 10 hours' work at the chapter office; Gray Ladies, 15 persons gave 201 hours at General Hospital and chapter office; motor service, one person gave three hours' service for chapter office; production, one person gave 21 hours and Whatsoever Circle, King's Daughters donated time and work; social welfare aide, one person gave 180 hours; staff aide, 16 persons gave 65 hours' work; nurse's aide, one person gave three hours at chapter office.

Truck Strikes Bridge, Driver Suffers Injury

One person sustained minor injuries in one of two accidents investigated Wednesday by state highway patrolmen. City police reported two minor accidents.

Gilbert H. LaRue, 39, of Newcomerstown, sustained a bruised right leg and knee when the truck he was driving struck a bridge abutment at 6:10 a.m. on Route 95 less than a mile east of Marion.

LaRue told investigating patrolmen that an oncoming car forced him off the road. The impact knocked off a corner of the bridge and damaged a marking sign and guard railing.

Moderate damage resulted to the right rear outside dual wheel, the saddle tank, and the right rear axle of the truck.

At 1:15 p.m. on Route 23 about six-tenths of a mile north of Marion, damage resulted when the steering axle broke on a truck pulling a trailer. Driving the truck was James R. Boone, 39, of Oak Hill.

Slight damage resulted to the rear of the truck, and the front end of the trailer was badly damaged, patrolmen said. No one was injured.

Two Accidents in City

Two non-injury traffic accidents in the city Wednesday were reported today by city police.

A truck-car collision at 189 Patten St. at 1:51 p.m. yesterday resulted in damage to both vehicles.

The car was driven by James Hammus, 24, of near Marion and the truck by William E. Long of Columbus.

The other mishap involved damage of less than $100.

MAN FINED $100, COSTS

George Rowland of Waldo was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Wednesday to a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. He was arrested by police Tuesday night in a N. Main St. restaurant.

Dulles Believes Chou Doubts If U.S. Will Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles today was reported to feel that Chinese Communist leaders do not take at face value repeated U.S. pledges to defend Formosa.

A senator who attended Dulles' briefing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday said Dulles expressed concern that the Chinese Reds "have got the impression that we really do not intend to fight for Formosa and the Pescadores." The senator asked not to be quoted by name.

Communist China was reported, meanwhile, to have sharply eased up on its violent campaign of public threats to capture Formosa and the Pescadores.

Government officials who study Red China's propaganda said this is not necessarily a sign the Reds are backing down. They said such outlets as the Peiping radio have been devoting much time to other current propaganda.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), who did not hear Dulles' briefing of the Foreign Relations Committee, said the "great danger point is the apparent failure of the Chinese Communist government to truly appreciate the determination of the United States to defend Formosa."

In an interview, Humphrey urged "every possible effort by the administration through diplomatic channels and using every other device of communication to make it crystal clear . . . that we do mean business on Formosa."

Recreation

year. Which one has not been decided, he said.

Funds presently used for parks and recreation must come from the city general fund and no increases in the amounts are likely, he indicated. Two attempts to raise additional funds for recreational purposes through special tax levies were voted down, he pointed out.

Paul Simpson, a member of the Recreation Commission, said that there can be no program planned in city parks this year until the board knows what funds it will have.

Clark explained that while Council has set aside $3,000 for the recreational program, it has not yet appropriated the money for this purpose. —:—

MRS. DURWARD MYERS, moderator for the discussion, read a report of the Recreation Commission of a program carried on last year in Lincoln Park and its recommendations for a similar program for this year.

Attendance records at Lincoln Park last summer showed that from 300 to 700 persons participated in various daily activities, the report said.

Arts and crafts, tennis instruction, softball teams, a track meet and various other activities were carried on as a part of the 12-week-long program.

Recommended for this year was an expanded program which would include other playgrounds in other sections of the city. This expanded program would require at least $5,000 rather than the $3,000 earmarked for recreation, the report said.

Prior to Clark's discussion, Dr. A. J. Wagner, chairman of the recreation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly.

He pointed out that in his 27 years in Marion, the city has had no positive, well-balanced recreation program.

He said he felt the reason for failure of the recreation levies was that the public was not well enough informed on them. Before the voters are willing to approve special bond issues or tax levies they must know exactly what they are paying for, he said.

Sixth Ward Councilman Harold Fralich said another factor contributing to the failure of the levies was that at least one other special levy was included on the same ballot.

ARTHUR HAAS, YMCA secretary, later in the discussion pointed out that he feels Marion is "over recreated" but that the recreational opportunities, particularly for adults, are not well balanced.

But there are also obvious weaknesses in the city's recreational opportunities, one of which is the lack of a public swimming pool, he said.

Joseph Whisler director of pupil personnel in the city schools, pointed out that Marion's park facilities are well below the standards recommended by the National Recreation Association. This organization recommends one acre of land for each 100 residents. This means Marion should have some 350 acres of city parks, he said. Presently the city has about 89 acres of park land.

A proposal for establishment of an approximately 175 acre municipal park just south of the new Marion General Hospital between Route 23 and Route 4 was also discussed by Dr. Wagner.

As envisioned by his committee this park would contain all types of recreational facilities including an adequate swimming pool and municipal golf course.

He also said that even if such a plan did become a reality, all other parks in the city should also be maintained.

Councilman-at-large Richard Lister said he was in agreement with such a plan, but said he could not see how the city could maintain this park plus the present parks when it presently does not have enough funds to maintain the existing parks.

It was tentatively decided to continue the discussion of the recreational needs and opportunities in the city at subsequent meetings. Date for the next meeting on the subject was not decided.

Piketon Pastor Still Not Found After Six Days

PIKETON, Ohio (AP)—Last Friday, a 49-year-old minister in this atomic energy community told his wife he would "be right back" and drove to the post office to buy money orders. She hasn't seen him since.

The Rev. Mr. Maurice W. Kipbart of the Disciples of Christ Church did go to the post office. A clerk said he bought two money orders, one for an insurance payment and another for a Girl Scouts bill, and then walked out.

Since then, state highway patrolmen and other law enforcement officials have been unable to turn up a trace of him.

His wife estimated he had $100 in his pockets after buying the money orders. She said he had been in good spirits before his disappearance.

When he left the house, he was wearing a brown felt hat, tan plastic raincoat, gray slacks, white shirt, green polka-dotted bow tie, brown oxfords and horn-rimmed glasses. He was driving a 1950 gray, four-door Studebaker, with 1954 license plates bearing the number, Y-224-S. He is 5 feet 11 inches, slender, wears a mustache and has a scar across his nose.

The Kipharts were among the first church workers to come into this area to serve the workers in the atomic energy plants.

First Talks Set On Guaranteed Annual Wage

DETROIT (AP) — The bell sounds next week for the opening round in the CIO United Auto Workers' showdown fight for a guaranteed annual wage in the auto industry.

The union announced in joint statements with General Motors and Ford yesterday that "exploratory" talks will be held then—separately with each company.

The GM and Ford talks will cover roughly half a million workers. They will spearhead a drive which the union hopes will win a guaranteed annual wage for more than a million auto workers and perhaps many of the CIO's four million other members.

The UAW is demanding contract guarantees that any seniority worker who works any part of a week will be paid for a full 40 hours. He also would be guaranteed a certain part of his full wage for a week when there is no work for him at all.

General Motors' five-year contract with the union expires May 29. The Ford pact runs out June 1. Formal negotiations with the two biggest auto producers are scheduled to begin in early April.

Ode to Youth

By George Sokolsky

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in his brilliant address at Los Angeles recently, quoted a lovely ode to youth attributed to a poet, apparently unknown I was interested in the poet's anonymity So, I found this gem in "The Silver Treasury," a book of prose and verse for every mood, compiled by Jane Manner and published by Samuel French in 1934 The author was Samuel Ullman.

SOKOLSKY

Never having heard of Samuel Ullman and intrigued by his lovely English, I traced him down and found that he had been born in Alsace in 1840 — came to this country as a boy, arriving in New Orleans, fought in the Civil War in the 16th Infantry Regiment of Mississippi, was wounded twice, settled in Natchez, married Emma Mayer moved to the new city of Birmingham, Ala in th 1880 s where he lived until his death in 1924

SAMUEL ULLMAN was a merchant with a penchant for public service He became a member of the board of education in 1884 and for many years served as its president and served as an alderman in Birmingham from 1895 to 1897.

He helped to organize Temple Emanuel in Birmingham and for three years served as its lay-rabbi. One of his daughters married Rabbi Morris Newfield who was his successor at the Birmingham temple A high school is named after Samuel Ullman in Birmingham.

In his seventies, Ullman retired from business, travelled considerably and wrote poetry. On the occasion of his 80th birthday, in 1920, his family and relatives, perhaps a hundred of them, gathered at his home in Birmingham to do him honor His poems had been collected and privately printed in a volume entitled, 'From a Summit of Years — Four Score."

THE ESSAY on youth, which Gen MacArthur quoted in his speech, is the opening contribution to this volume Some years ago, it was reprinted in "This Week" anonymously and in the "Reader's Digest" which gave him credit I am here giving it as it appears in his own collection of writings

"Youth is not a time of life, it is a state of mind, it is not a matter of rosy cheeks, red lips and supple knees, it is a matter of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions, in is the freshness of the deep springs of life

"Youth means the temperamental predominance of courage over timidity of the appetite, for adventure over the love of ease This often exists in a man of sixty more than a boy of twenty o-body grows old merely by a number of years We grow old by deserting our ideals .

"Years may wrinkle the skin but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul worry, fear, self-distrust bows the heart and turns the spirit back to dust.

"Whether sixty or sixteen there is in every human being's heart the lure of wonder, the unfailing child-like appetite of what's next, and the joy of the game of living In the center of your heart and my heart there is a wireless station, so long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, courage and power from men and from the Infinite, so long are you young

"When the aerials are down and your spirit is covered with snows of cynicism and the ice of pessimism, then you are grown old, even at twenty, but as long as your aerials are up, to catch waves of optimism there is hope you may die young at eighty."

AMONG HIS POEMS, I found this one entitled "Death".

I am the key that parts the gates of Fame,
I am the cloak that covers cowering shame!
I am the goal that limits every race,
I am the storm - tossed spirit's resting place—
The messenger of sure and swift relief!
Received with wailings, tears and speechless grief.
The friend of those that have no friend but me!
I break all chains and set all captives free—
I am the cloud that shrouds the course you've run!
An instant veil upon the work you've done!
I am the brooding hush that follows strife,
The waking from a dream that man calls life."

War of Needles

By Victor Riesel

You may not have heard of Baxley, Ga, but I bring it to your attention because it may yet be impressed on history as the site where a new civil war started. Not a shooting war, but a shouting war, bitter and divisive

VICTOR RIESEL

It seems that the Authorities of Baxley believe they have devised a system which can smash unions

The town fathers have sired a law which could prove expensive indeed to the nation's labor chiefs if it spreads A "licensing labor" ordinance has been passed To get an organizing license, a union official must pay the community $2,000 annually.

UNDER THIS LAW, the union really can't afford to be successful. For it must also pay $500 for each member signed up.

Before he can legally organize in Baxley, Ga, a union official must first apply in writing to the mayor and the city council for a permit The city patrons then investigate the "nature" of the organization and how they believe it will effect the city's welfare

Only then does a union organizer get the privilege — if he passes — of organizing under a $2 000 license and a $500 head tax Failure to comply with these regulations is a criminal offense

Naturally the AFL's International Ladies Garment Workers Union, was not going to by-pass Baxley's garment shops The ILGWU sent in organizer Rose Staub to unionize in the tradition of every other state from New York to California And the Baxley gendarmerie decided to send her to jail.

SHE WAS CONVICTED on the basis of a complaint to the chief of police — who says that he doesn't "have any idea who made it at all" Rose Staub stood trial on the criminal charge She was convicted The Georgia Supreme Court refused to review the constitutionality of the ordinance because of a technicality in the trial

It seems that a local lady who presided as a clerk at the trial was not actually the clerk of the court, although she assured the union attorney that she was such an official So the State Supreme Court threw out the union's appeal of Rose Staub's conviction

And the law stays on the books in Baxley But not if the influential Ladies Garment Workers Union, led by David Dubinsky, can help it

In fact, not if a new and hard-hitting combine of some million needle trades workers can help it, either.

IT HAS BEEN generally overlooked but there is a new and powerful bloc rising inside labor now that the AFL and CIO are going steady. This is the needle trades bloc — the Amalgamated Clothing Workers led by Jack Potofsky the Ladies Garment Workers, the Textile Workers led by Emil Rieve and William Pollack and the Hatters Union, led by Alex Rose

Most of these men met in Miami Beach, last month, right after the signing of the labor merger papers They discussed common problems — and especially those arising out of the kind of opposition and tough labor laws typified by the Baxley ordinance And they plan to hold other such sessions

There are strong forces — and imagination — in this combination The needle trades union leaders are the ones who have given labor a modern touch and a new look almost each season

It was this group which first took labor into politics These men were the first to set up labor banks housing projects, hospitals, summer playgrounds and resorts

THEY HAD WELFARE funds long before John Lewis had eyebrows They now have a bloc which might be dubbed 'the soft-goods council"

Soon they plan to start their organizing legions rolling They will seek bi - partisan help although they are all Democrats most of the time

This week they spoke to President Eisenhower and sought his help But they won't stop there They are determined to unionize the southern garment industry — they will have northern industrial help because many shops are moving south and are proving tough competition for high labor cost plants in the north

So keep your eye on Baxley The war of the needles is on

Remagen

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

The surprise capture of the Remagen bridge across the Rhine 10 years ago is now accepted as one of the stunning feats in military history.

HAL BOYLE

But when it actually happened it is hard to say who was dismayed most by it—the German enemy or some of the top Allied strategists.

At an anniversary reunion this week President Eisenhower honored 12 heroes who were among the first to cross and seize the bridge Warmly he assured them that their action typified "the dash the ingenuity, the readiness at the first opportunity that characterizes the American soldier"

BUT DIPLOMATICALLY he refrained from mentioning that this sudden battlefield prize became for a few days quite a hot potato at his own wartime headquarters. The big question What to do with the bridge?

Some military strategists, like wives at housecleaning time, hate to change their tidy plans, no matter for what reason That's why the unexpected capture of the Remagen bridge upset and even annoyed some Allied chieftains

Here was the situation in early 1945:

Nobody expected to breach the ancient barrier of the Rhine except as a result of a mighty effort A big plan had been laid to make the crossing in Field Marshal Montgomery's sector.

Most British—and some American—advisers to Eisenhower at SHAEF were pressing him to mass the Allied strength behind Montgomery in a single big march across Germany.

BUT GEN. OMAR BRADLEY and other American field commanders favored another plan Bradley himself wanted also to cross the Rhine with his group, swing north, link up with Montgomery and thus pocket the Ruhr, Germany's industrial heart

So the issue stood—still undecided—on March 7th, Then doughboys and tankmen of the 9th Armored Division dramatically changed the picture. Traveling so swiftly they actually had gone beyond their road maps, they arrived at the Rhine Startled German engineers, led by a major, frantically tried to destroy the Ludendorff railway bridge. Two explosions weakened the structure But before they could complete the job, American gunfire drove them off The Yanks raced to the far side of the Rhine.

Should the small American spearhead have seized the bridge on its own initiative? One officer, who knew of the impending big crossing planned farther north by SHAEF, confessed later his first, momentary reaction to the news his men had seized a bridge intact was this

"What did the boys go and do that for? Now we'll all be in trouble"

A high operations officer from SHAEF was present when Bradley, highly delighted, heard the news When this officer minimized the importance of the bridge's capture, saying it didn't fit into "the Big Plan"—the Montgomery plan—Bradley indignantly demanded:

"What the hell do you want us to do—pull back and blow it up?"

Eisenhower himself saw the military possibilities at once and ordered the bridgehead strengthened immediately Later, overriding his SHAEF staff exponents of "the Big Plan," he sided with Bradley and others who had favored a double pincers attack across the Rhine In his memoirs Eisenhower credits the Remagen bridge seizure with shortening the war.

THUS DID A RELATIVE handful of troops, men with the courage and enterprise to seize a golden moment, change history.

Today many of the survivors have been honored with medals Equal honor is owed to the memory of dozens of American Army engineers, who repaired the bridge under shellfire for 10 previous days and lost their lives when it collapsed into the Rhine

No medal went to the German major who had been ordered to blow up the bridge, and didn't quite succeed There is no possible excuse in the German Army for failing to blow a bridge across the Rhine

He was tried and shot, and it didn't take very long Somehow, looking back at the Remagen story, which I helped cover 10 years ago as a war reporter, I cannot escape a feeling of regret at the German major's penalty Fate put him in the wrong place at the wrong time, and he paid a high price for some bad battlefield luck He left, I believe, a family.

Rookies Watched

AL Champs Won't Stay Pat, Lopez Tells Indian Hopefuls

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—There is a mistaken idea, says Manager Al Lopez, that the American League champion Cleveland Indians will stand pat on their 1954 outfit.

"We're not set like a lot of people think," he explained as the Indians met the Chicago Cubs today in the first of their exhibition games. "There are several positions yet to be decided. There are several yong fellows we have to look over."

Newcomers given strong chances include catcher Hank Foiles, first baseman Joe Altobelli, outfielder Rocco Colavito and, of course, left-handed pitcher Herb Score. All four spent 1954 with Indianapolis of the American Assn.

Lopez would like a strong left-handed pitcher to go with right-handers Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Art Houtteman and Mike Garcia on the front line. Score might fill the bill, but Don Mossi, an outstanding southpaw reliefer last season, would like that starting assignment. Rookie Hank Aguirre, up from Reading, Pa., is getting attention and veteran Lefty Bill Wight, who played for San Diego last season, isn't counted out. Veteran right-hander Bob Feller counts on another good season with spot assignments.

At first base Vic Wertz is No 1 as expected but Dale Mitchell, previously an outfielder, makes a bid along with Altobelli.

Al Rosen at third and George Strickland at shortstop appear secure. The same is true of Bobby Avila at second when he signs.

The outfield is filled with talent so an interesting battle develops. Home run hitter Ralph Kiner, acquired from the Cubs after 1954, probably has the hardest fight of his career for a regular job.

Larry Doby in center and Al Smith in an adjacent field appear well assured. But fighting for the other spot along with Kiner are the rookie Colavito, veterans Dave Pope and Wally Westlake plus Harry Simpson, trying for a big league comeback after spending 1954 with Indianapolis. Dave Philley, currently a holdout, played in 133 games last season, so can't be counted out.

Redlegs Begin Spring Games Against Chisox

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox may get a look today at exactly the same Cincinnati Redleg lineup the Chicago Cubs will see when the Cubs and the Reds open the National League season at Cincinnati April 11.

That applies even to the starting pitcher.

Art Fowler, the 31-year-old sophomore right-hander, is scheduled to start for the Reds in the opening spring training exhibition game against the White Sox and, as of now, he's a good bet to be Cincinnati's season opening hurler.

Barring any deals during the next month, the rest of the lineup Manager Birdie Tebbetts starts today also is expected to be the same as that on April 11.

After Fowler finishes his brief stint today, Tebbetts plans to use right hander Corky Valentine and southpaw Bill Werle against the Sox.

The mention of possible deals between now and April 11 still is a prime one. There have been rumors that the Reds are seeking Junior Gilliam from the Brooklyn Dodgers or holdout Frank Thomas from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The anglins that General Manager Gabe Paul has been doing for Thomas brought this second-hand comment from Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals: "Is Gabe Paul trying to corral all of the league's power hitters?"

The Reds already have Gus Bell, Ted Kluszewski, Jim Greengrass and Ray Jablonski as power boys but there have been reports the Redlegs are willing to sacrifice Greengrass to add a bit of speed to the lineup.

Paul plans to talk with the Pirates' Branch Rickey again next Tuesday.

The game today will be the first course in a steady diet of exhibition contests for the Cincinnatians until the opening of the regular season. In those exhibitions Tebbetts expects to take a good look at such pitching veterans as Werle and Johnny Klippstein plus a flock of rookie hurlers, topped by Rudy Minarcin and Cliff Ross.

Bob Irvin Guides Charges to Title in Cincinnati League

Bob Irvin, former St. Mary High School athlete, has wound up a successful year in his first outing in the big time.

Irvin, freshman coach at Cincinnati's Roger Bacon High School, concluded the cage season last week by guiding his freshman charges to the title in the Greater Cincinnati League. The basketball team's performance was a repeat of the Marion native's grid charges. The league football crown also was taken by Irvin's charges.

Bob is a brother of Nelson (Ninny) Irvin, former assistant coach at St. Mary under Gene Fetter and Ray Robbins.

Joe Adcock, easy-going first baseman of the Milwaukee Braves totes armful of bats at the Braves Bradenton, Fla., spring training camp, back in business again despite near tragedy after being beaned in a game against Brooklyn last year. MAY HALT BUS SERVICE

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Because it's losing money and couldn't afford $9,000 for new license plates, the Employees Transit Lines, Inc., yesterday announced it may stop service between Lorain, Elyria and Amherst effective March 31. Council recently refused the bus line's request to boost student fares from 8 to 10 cents.

FIGHT GAS RATE HIKE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Opponents of a gas rate increase asked by Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. are slated to present their case when the hearing reopens March 30. The firm yesterday, in a state utilities commission hearing, said increased cost of gas, depreciation and expenses on new plant investment make necessary the proposed $1,600,000 increase.

Schlundt Ends Big Ten Action With 9 Marks

CHICAGO (AP)—Don Schlundt, Indiana's towering center, has bowed out of collegiate basketball competition leaving a trail of nine Big Ten records.

Schlundt, aided by wartime eligibility as a freshman, saw action in four varsity seasons. Final conference statistics credit him with these marks:

A new single game free throw record of 25; a single game total-point record of 47; making the most free throw attempts in one game, 30; averageing the most free throws per game for a season, 11.2 and scoring teh most points in a college career, 1,451.

He previously held records for the highest scoring average per season, 27.1; the best season field goal average, .504; best one game free throw average, 14 out of 14 for 1.000; and most free throw attempts per game for a season, 13.8.

Schlundt matched his previous scoring high of 47 points in his closing performance against Ohio State last Saturday. He handily took the Big Ten scoring crown with 69 points and a 26.3 average. Minnesota's Dick Garmaker was second with 348 and 24.8 and Northwestern's Frank Ehmann third with 343 and 24.5.

Schlundt's four-year scoring total possibly never will be topped in the Big Ben. Even his three-year tally—which will become the target of future sharpshooters—will be hard to beat. In three years he hit for 1,082 points. This surpasses the three-year record of 1,027 by Ohio State Paul Ebert.

Illinois, sharing second with Minnesota in the title race, was the team offensive champion with a 14 game total of 1,174 points for an 82.4 average. Minnesota was the No. 1 team on defense, yielding an average of 73 points.

Champion Iowa led in field goal accuracy, hitting .413 per cent of its shots. Northwestern was next with .408. Indiana led in four line percentage with .742 and Wisconsin was second with .722.

Individually, John Miller of Ohio State, fifth in the scoring race, was first in field goal percentage with .482 and Schlundt was tops in free throw accuracy with .826.

PROFESSORS GET PAY HIKE

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lay professors at Xavier University yesterday received a pay increase of $500 a year. The Very Rev. James F. Maguire, university president, said the university's ability to obtain sufficient gifts would be the determining factor in keeping the increased pay in effect annually. Father Magure reported Xavier already has raised more than $100,000 of a $300,000 goal for 1955.

Are you a "Do-It-Yourself" Driver?
Or would you rather be waited on hand and foot?

Rather shift for yourself . . . or let Powerglide do it?
Shifting's smooth and easy with Chevrolet's new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission. A flick of your wrist is all it takes to shift gears.
Powerglide, too, is better than ever this year. Even smoother and sturdier. It's the most popular automatic transmission* in Chevrolet's field!

Want standard steering . . . or extra-easy Power Steering?
Try this easy new Chevrolet steering. Only Chevrolet and some higher-priced cars use a ball bearing system to cut friction to a minimum.
There's nothing quite so easy as Power Steering, of course. Good news: Chevrolet's new linkage-type Power Steering* carries a reduced price!

Apply the brakes like this . . . or have power make it easier?
Improved brakes and new swing-type pedals make stopping a cinch. And Chevrolet's exclusive Anti-Dive control gives you "heads up" stops!
Chevrolet Power Brakes* are better than ever this year—let you stop by a simple pivot of your foot from accelerator to swing-type brake pedal.

Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!
What's a high-priced car got that Chevrolet hasn't? Not automatic power features. Not style—just look below. Not performance—just try out Chevrolet's new V8 or one of the new 6's. Not ride—perhaps the thing that will surprise you most is Chevrolet's fine, solid feel on the road. Come see how Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars.

Bibler Quintet Clinches Share Of League Title

Biblers Vaults clinched a tie for the second round championship of the YMCA Open League last night by walloping Garvins Sunoco of Bucyrus 93-74. In assuring itself of a slot for a second round playoff game, Bibler ran up the highest point total of year for a team in the fast YMCA Open loop. Six of Bibler's seven players hit the double figures and everyman on the team got into the scoring act.

The final games of the season originally scheduled for Wednesday of next week have been moved up to Monday where two potential teams gunning for a spot with Bibler's will meet. Pending a ruling by the "Y" Basketball Committee on the replay of the Bird-McGinnis-Marion Implement game, Monday's game between Radnor and Marion Implement will narrow the challengers to one team. Should the Legion-Marion Implement game be replayed and won by the latter team, the winner of the Radnor-Implement contest will face Bibler's on a date to be announced.

BIBLER'S rushed to a quick 10-4 lead over Bucyrus in the early minutes and held a 20-14 margin at the finish of the first quarter. In the second period, the winners staged one of the hottest shooting performances of the year as they rolled to a surprising 53-28 lead after 16 minutes of actual playing time. The winners kept rolling them in during the third and final periods to ice a role as co-champion of the second round.

Ron Conroy, former Harding High School star flipped in 27 points to lead the parade of scorers while Don West followed with 14. Jim Lawler, Bud England and Bob Reiff each contributed a total of 12 points. Young and Mathias were high for Bucyrus with 26 and 19 points respectively.

In other games played, Marion Implement shellacked Morral Supply 77-63 by rushing to a 26-9 first period lead. Hitting on five cylinders while Morral could not find the range, the winners had the game salted away in the original eight minutes of play. Lon Earl connected for 29 points to lead the winners while Nor Withrow with 17 and Bob Weston with 12 supported Earl's outstanding shooting performance. Bob Bartlett, newest addition to Morral's team, was high for the losers with 14 while Ron Craycraft and Burl Hilborne added 13 each.

RADNOR duplicated Marion-Implements performance by getting away to a wide 22-6 lead over Bird-McGinnis in the third and final game. Radnor rolled on to win 80-62. Radnor with a record of four wins and one loss has yet to get by Marion-Implement before getting into a playoff position.

Clark and Stewart were Radnor's biggest guns with 22 and 21 points while Dick Roseberry was high for Bird-McGinnis with 16. Rich Wolfe and Jim Finnegan added 13 to the losers' point total.

Improvements Still Will Be Needed

Grand Prairie School Will Not Close Under Consolidation, Supervisor Says

Russell Martin superintendent of the Grand Prairie Local School District today declared that the Grand Prairie School would not be abandoned even if recommendations of the Ohio School Survey Committee become law

The Survey Committee has recommended that all school districts which do not offer at least 12 grades of schooling by 1959 be denied any further state funds The avowed purpose of the recommendation is to force consolidation of the smaller school districts in the state

GRAND PRAIRIE which has classes only for the first seven grades will continue to operate as an elementary school if the district is merged with another Martin said And an addition to the school will still be needed he added calling on the voters of the Grand Prairie district to approve a proposed $113 000 bond issue for improvements to the building

In a public letter Martin said 'We are working toward becoming part of a larger district whether the Survey Committee's recommendation becomes law or not We would then be an elementary school in a larger district that would have other elementary schools and one high school One Board of Education would serve the whole district It is thought best to continue the elementary schools in the existing buildings and to build a new high school in a central location

He added that the county school office and the State Department of Education have given Grand Prairie reason to believe that the elementary program at Grand Prairie should continue in the future also that money spent in improving our program would be a good investment'

MARTIN CITED the present conditions of the school in emphasizing the need for passage of the bond issue He pointed out the school is chartered as an eight year elementary school With a large enrollment, though eighth grders have had to be sent to Morral and Edison Junior High Schools

Two basement rooms are now being used on a temporary basis and another room is crowded Martin pointed out that four additional rooms are needed to provide for an eight year program with one grade to a teacher

Better cafeteria facilities are needed also he said When space is made available home economics and industrial arts courses will be offered to seventh and eighth graders He said that present facilities for vocal and instrumental music are fairly adequate but could be expanded

He explained that the $113 000 bond issue would be paid at the rate of $1 39 per year for each $1 000 valuation Utilities would be taxed at the same rate Valuation of the district at present is $6 400 000

The bond issue will be put before the voters at a special election April 5 It needs 60 per cent approval for passagge

Comics as Straight Men

"United States Steel Hour," in a burst of creative imagination the other night, cast three people normally associated with comedy—Jack Carson, Ernest Truex and Cliff Norton — in straight roles, while over on another network a little earlier, David Niven, a straight actor was doing what amounted to pratfalls on the Bob Hope show. Next week: Jackie Gleason in "Hamlet." This is the age of the big switch.

JOHN CROSBY

Actually, Carson, playing the part of a shop foreman (or some such thing), on a big assembly line gave a surprisingly big and powerful performance. Industry is getting more than its share of attention these days and, if this thing keep up much longer, I'm going to set myself up as a financial adviser.

Where "Patterson" showed how the upper administrative echelons of big business chewed the insides out of a man, this one, called "Man in the Corner," set out to demonstrate that the machines down in the lower echelons could be pretty remorseless, too. Business must be a terrible thing.

CARSON PLAYED the part of a patsy whose immediate superior took all the credit for the good things and showered him with all the blame for the bad things on the assembly line. In his own home, he plays patsy to his mother and sister.

The story of the worm that turns is an old, old story and this one, while it contained a few new wrinkles, was marked by some shoddy philosophizing and some badly overwritten scenes.

But Carson did a real honest job of work with what he had and so did Cliff Norton, who is more often remembered for low comedy bits on the old Dave Garroway show, as Carson's shifty immediate superior, and Truex as the big boss of the plant.

I'm afraid I winced a bit near the end when the patsy gets promoted to floor manager (or some such thing) and gets the traditional speech: "For you on the floor, it won't be easy. It's a lonely business." But the play, for all its faults, had a lot of impact.

BIG BUSINESS is certinly getting the play these days and now the question arises as to whether the writers, a sheltered lot, know what the hell they're talking about. "Patterns," a study of life on the executive level, received unanimous praise as a taut and beautifully written drama. But its value as documentary has been sharply questioned by no less an authority than The Wall Street Journal.

"If this play really reflected the mood and atmosphere of business," says a Journal editorial, "if men under the perfectly real stresses of business acted as did these, the executive reaches would not only be a madhouse but business itself would long ago have collapsed through sheer incompetence.

"And if men actually lived by the ethical standards which the playwright cheerfully asks us to accept at the end of this play, then not only all truth but our society itself would hardly be worth saving from collapse."

IN SHORT, business strikes back. I expect "The Machinist Age" will have something to say about "Man in the Corner," too, which is all right with me. Let's get a controversy started. Just to throw in my own two cents worth, I'd like to point out that newspapermen have never been particularly happy about the way they're portrayed by the playwrights, either.

To get back to Mr. Hope and Mr. Niven, the Hope show was a little better than usual, except that there seemed to be a running feud between the two men. Hope seemed to be driving Niven out of his wits with ad libs, Niven at one point exclaiming: "Why do you always have to top me?" If they have to have this sort of thing, I wish they'd keep it backstage. It's a painful to watch.

Taxi Trouble

PARIS (AP)— After an interruption of 15 years, Paris has put back into operation the telephones along side Taxi stands, so that the customers can call the cabs to their homes.

Taxi drivers aren't enthusiastic.

For one thing, they have to buy a key to the box. For another, the customer often gets tired of waiting and finds another cab. Worst of all, a cab on its way to pick up a customer may be halted by a policeman for cruising empty with its flag down, which is against the law.

BATTLE FLOOD IN AUSTRALIA TOWN STREET. Two men reach to join hands as they battle a roaring torrent in a street of Maitland, Australia. Maitland is one of the towns hit hard by floods in New South Wales.

Matured Bond Awaits Couple

SEATTLE (UP) — Harvey Harold Meier, or his wife, Marion Elinor Meier, whereever they may be, are $25 richer than they might think they are.

A matured U. S. Savings Bond is in the possession of a Seattle man, and the bond is made out to the Meiers. Their address when they purchased the bond in September, 1944, was Postoffice Box 277, Quantico, Va.

Ward Beecher, who has the certificate, believes it might have come to him via Southeast Asia. Beecher, great-grandson of the noted minister, Henry Ward Beecher, found the bond among the personal effects of a Chinese youth, Cher Wee-tong.

Beecher met Cher when both were assigned to a unit of the Office of Strategic Services in Yunan Province of China during World War II. The Chinese was interpreter, messenger, mechanic and cans. He impressed Beecher with his intelligence, and Beecher promised to educate him after the war.

Meanwhile, Beecher went to Budapest as U. S. vice counsul there. Wee-tong went to Bangkok, Siam, where his family had moved from China. Late in 1947, Maj. Nicoll Smith, another member of the OSS unit, paid Wee-tong's passage to this country, and Beecher and his father brought the Chinese youth to Seattle and entered him in Edison Technical School. But within a month, Wee-tong was dead of Hodgkin's disease.

Beecher's father found the bond among Wee-tong's few belongings and wrote the Quantico post office box. The letter came back marked "address unknown." He then wrote to the U. S. Treasury Department, but its files could not help find the Meiers.

The elder Beecher died last year and Ward Beecher came across the bond among his father's effects.

The Meiers can communicate with Beecher in care of radio station KAYO, Seattle.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Marine PFC Curtis I. Hash is living up to his name in Korea. The family of the former Savannah, Ga., youth reports he is a cook in an anti-aircraft battalion.

Madrone Tree Vanishes From Texas Scenery

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP) — One of Texas' least known but ornamental trees, the madrone, is disappearing.

The madrone, sometimes called the "squaw leg" because of its smooth reddish trunk, can still be found in the hill country of central Texas, but only where the terrain is rugged and inaccessible. Texas legend has it that the tree does not like civilization.

Nor can the copper-colored tree very similar to the popular mimosa, be transplanted. Practically every known method of propagating from seed or transplanting the young growth from a foot or up has failed.

The madrone, with its delicate pink flowers in the spring and brilliant red berries at Autumn, is usually found in the poorest of soils and invariably on sloping ground. The flowers, berries and leaves make good decorations since they will last for many weeks in fresh water without any discoloration.

This apparent hardiness is just as deceptive to the would-be transplanter, since the tree dies very slowly and gives the impression it will live after removal.

But the madrone never puts on a new leaf stock after transplanting. Mexican folklore says the "madrono" (mother) tree will always die if moved.

Italy Promotes Industrial Ties With Arabians

ROME (UP) — Italy hopes to become the industrial big brother of under-developed Arab neighbors around the southern Mediterranean and the Middle East

Guiseppe Vedovato, top government economist, has completed a mission through the Arab countries and has promised to send at least 100 Italian technicians to advise on a number of projects the Arabs hope to launch

Vedovato visited such Arabian capitals as Damascus Amman Baghdad, Beirut Kuwait Gedda Kartoum, Cairo and Tripoli as well as industrial or commercial centers like Alexandria and Aqaba

He reported friendliness toward expanded Italian commerce and said the Arabs want Italian technical aid

No agreements were actually signed but members of his mission who represented Italian banking or industrial groups made direct contacts with interested persons in the various countries

Vedovato pointed out that Arab countries are primarily interested in Italian aid for construction of hydro-electric plants, naval installations mechanical and industrial facilities, railroads, highways and public buildings

Thus Italy's big annual crop of university trained specialists may be funneled into work on projects around the Mediterranean

Vedovato gave numerous examples of ways in which Italian technicians can help Arabian projects In Jordan he foresees the raising of phosphate production from 40 000 to 500 000 tons a year

The Italian economist's plan is to improve the transportation from the mines to the port city of Aqaba by means of a railroad or a trucking highway, a construction project which would employ Arab common labor as well as Italian specialists

He also pointed out that Italians could work on a proposed giant dam on Jordan's River Jarmuk and on the irrigation program for the fertile but arid Jodan Valley He also mentioned the possibility of Italian mining engineers going to Jordan to develop the rich potassium and manganese deposits located there

Such development of Arab natural resources would benefit Italian industry, which in turn would sell back to the Arabs many manufactured projects, Vedovato explained

In Egypt Vedovato found the government in need of technical assistance in the construction of a fertilizer plant and in the Sudan he found need of Italian help in the building of a rail and highway network

Libya formerly an Italian colony and now a United Nations sponsored free kingdom has asked Italian help in irrigation projects and in development of artesian wells

Skiing Resorts List Increases In Participants

STOWE Vt (UP) — Baseball is America's most popular spectator sport and fishing is our principal participant sport But no sport spectator or participant, is growing faster than skiing

The hickory riding snowbirds are flocking in constantly increasing numbers to every northern mountain that has a rope tow, T bar or chair-lift on its slopes

Each Friday evening during the winter thousands of skiers rush out of the cities to the snow covered hills to spend a weekend happily stemming schussing or christying their way down the trails and slopes

Even the air-lines are now running air lifts to the chair lifts at bargain rates It has been estimated that there are now 3 000 000 American skiers And they're by no means all youngsters

Hotels in Canada's Laurentian Mountains that once closed for the winter are now filled to capacity during January February and March as more and more skiers having sampled the joys of soaring on the snowy slopes relinquish their summer-time vacations to take winter holidays Skiing is now a compulsory subject in most French Canadian Laurentian schools

And there are towns whose entire economy is based on the ski dollar One of these is Stowe Twenty years ago Stowe was a sleepy New England village where city folks in the winter were as rare as sleds in Miami, Snow was cordially detested

Then the first ski trail was built on Mt Mansfield Vermont's highest peak eight miles from Stowe Since then the ski facilities have been enlarged each year and Mansfield's dozens of downhill slopes and trails are now served by two chair lifts two T bar lifts and half a dozen assorted rope tows

Lodges and motels all catering to the skiers have sprung up in such numbers that the town is faced with the problem of inadequate water and electricity Now nothing makes a native of Stowe happier than a fresh fall of powder snow

Why this snow rush? Well in the opinion of Larry Heyer who has operated Ski Inn one of Stowe's more popular lodges for the past 14 years the reason is mainly that skiing is becoming easier to learn

Modern skis are laminated and therefore more flexible than ever before A flexible ski is an easily maneuvered ski Modern boots and bindings which fasten the ski rigidly to the foot make the skis easier for the beginner to handle yet will release short of the bone breaking point when sufficient stress is imposed if the two falls

'Another thing" said Heyer When I learned to ski 20 years ago we had no hike up Mt Mansfield and then snow-plow our way down the only trail Why it took us all day to make one round trip—no wonder we got so little skiing practice Today a skier is whisked up to the top in 12 minutes by chair-lift '

This much is certain Skiing is big business Skiing is here to stay Millions of Americans have found it to be great fun

Senate Action on Harlan Eyed

Full Court Needed in Loyalty Test Case

By JAY G. HAYDEN

WASHINGTON (NANA) — One reason why the Supreme Court is anxious for early confirmation of John M. Harlan for its existing vacancy no doubt is the desire for a full court to hear the appeal of Dr. John P. Peters for reversal of his discharge from government employment on the ground of uncertain loyalty.

Peters' contention that he was deprived of a basic constitutional right by refusal to permit him to confront and cross-question witnesses who testified against him is the same that the court previously passed on in the case of Dorothy Bailey, April 30, 1951.

A tie vote (4 to 4) with Associate Justice Clark abstaining then left the discharge of Miss Bailey standing, but assured an early appeal by some other person on the same ground since less than a majority of the full court accomplished the decision.

DR. PETERS may have been picked as the ideal candidate for this test for two reasons. First, the position of special consultant to the U. S. Surgeon General from which he was fired is peculiarly nonsensitive from the loyalty standpoint. Second, Dr. Peters' professional standing is unimpeachable. Aged 67, he is senior professor of medicine at Yale University, before which he served in a score of medical teaching posts and hospitals and as captain in the Medical Reserve Corps of the Army during World War I.

Dr. Peters has denied membership in or conscious association with the Communist party. But he freely admits having signed up in several groups branded as Communist controlled and working in behalf of Spanish Loyalists and Harry Bridges, the West Coast labor leader convicted on and off of Communist membership.

The Bailey decision attracted special attention because of the hot comments of Associate Justice Jackson, whose sudden death occasioned the existing court vacancy.

ON THE SAME DAY that it tied on the Bailey case, the court ruled five to three that three organizations, suing to be taken off the Attorney General's list of alleged subversives, were entitled to confrontation of their accusers.

Declaring that in the two cases the court had decided substantially the same issue oppositely, Jackson called the action "justice turned bottom-side up." Further he said, "this is the first time this court has held rights of individuals subordinate and inferior to those of organizations."

Voting to reopen the case of the accused organizations were Justices Burton, Douglas, Jackson, Black and Frankfurter. Chief Justice Vinson and associate justices Reed and Minton dissented. There was no revelation as to how individuals voted in the 4-4 Bailey decision.

SINCE 1951 Vinson and Jackson have died and been replaced respectively by Chief Justice Warren and the appointee now pending, Mr. Harlan.

Interest in the case of Peters received a special uplift when the government filed its brief against him minus the signature of Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeleff, who normally heads up all pleadings to the Supreme Court. Instead, Attorney General Brownell signed the brief — another marked deviation from precedent.

There were previous signs that the Eisenhower administrtion was hotly divided on the fitness of the existing program for testing loyalty of government employes and this situation was in no wise appeased by Sobeloff's explanation of his absence from the Peters case. He said:

"The Attorney General and I are in complete understanding upon the matter. There is no requirement that the solicitor general shall sign a brief to the Supreme Court, particularly when the Attorney General signs. If you wish further comment you might see the Attorney general."

Mr. Brownell declined to speak.

NUMEROUS EVENTS of late have tended to change the political atmosphere concerning pursuit of disloyalty in the government. First, the Democrats returned to control of Congress last November and are conducting investigations of Eisenhower administration actions in this field. Then, just after election, came the censure of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, who got his initial boost into prominence by a statement, never even reportedly sustained, that he knew of 57 card-carrying Communists still working in the State Department.

December brought the uproar over discharge from the Agricultural Department of Wolf Ladejinsky, despite that he had been a civil service employe for 20 years and had previously been investigated and thoroughly cleared by the State Department on the same counts raised against him by agriculture.

Now appears Harvey M. Matusow and other confessed liars to prove that turn-about Communists testifying for pay against their alleged former fellows are far from reliable.

Last but not least Mr. Eisenhower is reported authoritatively as more and more tired of having his administration charged with bigotry and injustice.

California Library Gets Rare Guatemalan Book

LOS ANGELES (UP) — A copy of the first book ever printed in Guatemala, one of three known to be in existence and a rare example of early New World printing, was presented to the library on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

The gift was that of Maj. Robert B. Honeyman Jr., of San Juan Capistrano.

The book is a theological work by Father Payo de Rivera, Bishop of Guatemala, and is entitled "Explicatio Apologetica." It was printed by Joseph y Ybarra in 1663 on hand make linen paper. The book, containing 757 pages, is bound in the original vellum. Roman and italic type faces were used together in the printing, probably for the first time in the New World.

The only other two known copies of the book are both in Spain, one at the University of Seville and the other at the Biblioteca del Sacro Monte at Granada. A fourth copy was lost when fire destroyed the Biblioteca Medina at Lima, Peru, in 1943.

Watch That Dog

OMAHA (AP) — The woman told the police desk sergeant "there's a prowler in my back yard, my dogs here in the house are barking like crazy." The sergeant suggested she might turn the dogs loose to deal with the situation. He drew the snappy reply "Oh, I couldn't let my babies get hurt!"

Michigan Copper Booms

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State geologists are following closely developments at two Upper Peninsula copper mines which may result in better days for the Michigan copper industry. When it reaches peak production, the White Pine mine, in Ontonagan County, is expected to produce 75 million pounds a year — compared to 48 million pounds produced by Michigan mines currently in operation.

The Osceola, another mine, near Calumet, abandoned in 1931, is being cleared of some seven billion gallons of water which have flooded the shafts. Engineers expect to extract some 14 million pounds of copper a year.

But Geologists of the State Conservation Department feel the White Pine operation is the more promising. "It is the first attempt in Michigan to exploit copper sulphide commercially," says H. H. Hardenberg, conservation department mining geologist. "Most of the world's supply comes from copper sulphide," he says, "but Michigan's industry — until now — has been restricted to the mining of native copper."

Run for Money

MERTZON, Tex. (AP) — While county commissioners were meeting to talk about a road bond issue, a curious chapparal bird ran around outside a window.

Chapparal's are better known in these West Texas parts as Road-runners.

Tiny Iowa Town Located In Sections of 3 Counties

SHELDAHL, Ia. (UP) —Mayor Eldon Leonard lives in Story County, Town Marshall Gordon Gaulke lives in Polk County, The Rev. A. B. Hoyle, town pastor, lives in Boone County.

But they all live in the town of Sheldahl which occupies parts of three counties.

Postmaster Orrie D. Strauffer said it "may be a crazy little mixed up town, but it's happy." There are 200 inhabitants.

Hairline Job

DES MOINES (AP) — M. D. Georgeson, Des Moines jeweler, claims one of the steadiest pairs of hands in Iowa. With a drill 1-20,000 of an inch in diameter he drilled a hole through a hair and then pushed another hair through the hole.

"The hardest part," he says, "was making the drill."

Homemade Hot Cross Loaves Popular

This Traditional Lenten Favorite Makes Use of Mashed Potatoes

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Hot cross buns Of course you want to serve them during the Lenten season and you'll probably buy some at your favorite bakery But how about trying your hand at a couple of homemade Hot Cross Loaves? Using a time-honored method the receipe for these loaves calls for mashed potatoes You'll like the flavor too that the inclusion of freshly grated lemon rind and raisins bring

HOT CROSS LOAF. A traditional Lenten favorite.

HOT CROSS LOAF

Ingredients 3 medium sized potatoes 2 3 cup milk 2 3 cup sugar 1¼ teaspoons salt 2 3 cup butter or margarine 2 3 cup water 2 cakes compressed or 2 packages active dry yeast 4 eggs 6 cups sifted flour, grated rind of 1 lemon 1 cup raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained) 2 3 cup sifted confectioners sugar

Method Pare and boil potatoes drain and put through ricer or mash until smooth Scald milk Stir in sugar salt butter and 1-1-3 cups of the riced or mashed potatoes Cool to lukewarm Measure water into a large mixing bowl use lukewarm water (near 95F) for compressed yeast and warm but not hot (near 105F) for active dry yeast Crumble or sprinkle in yeast stir until dissolved Add lukewarm milk - potato mixture Beat three of the eggs enough to combine yolks and whites and add to yeast mixture Stir in half of the flour and the lemon rind Beat until smooth Add remaining flour or enough to make an easily handled dough Turn out on lightly floured board and knead quickly and lightly until smooth and elastic — about 8 to 10 minutes Let rise until doubled in bulk Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board Knead raisins into dough Divide dough in half Let rest 10 minutes and shape into loaves Place in greased bread pans (each 9 by 5 by 3 inches) Separate remaining egg beat egg yolk with 2 tablespoons water and brush loaves with the mixture Cover loaves and set in a warm place free from draft until doubled in bulk Bake in a hot (400 degrees oven about 45 minutes Beat remaining egg white until foamy and add enough to confectioners' sugar to make spreading consistency Drop from tip of spoon making crosses on tops of warm or cold loaves

Note Dough may be shaped into loaves this way Cut round ball of dough in half Flatten ball with fingers and press into an oblong (9 by 7 by 1 inches) Fold 7-inch ends of oblong to center overlapping slightly Press each side down firmly pinch center fold and ends together and place loaf sealed edge down in greased pan

Father Handles Arrangements For Marriage

OAKLAND Calif (UP) — The father of the bride usually pays the wedding bills but rarely does he plan the nuptial proceedings

With a fine disregard for convention Carl A Rietz professor of international cooking at Oakland's Mills College for Women took over this usually feminine province—and was applauded for his efforts

Rietz planned every detail of his daughter's wedding ceremony recreating ancient rites forgotten since Biblical times

It was only logical that he should Rietz president of the Rietz Manufacturing Co in Santa Rosa, Calif is an authority on eating customs of man through the ages

His daughter's wedding in San Francisco's Grace Cathedral high atop Nob Hill was traditional It was when the guests trooped down the hill to the Sheraton Palace Hotel that they found the radical departure from the usual cake and champagne

Rietz's daughter Sandra and her husband approached a banquet table laden as no other in the last 2 000 years It was illuminated by a pair of earthenware lamps dating back to the pre-Christian era

To seal their vows the bride groom handed his bride a piece of unleavened bread dipped in honey Then he cut the first piece of a four foot high ceremonial cake of wheat and honey shaped like a bee hive

A pottery vessel, vintage 100 B C, held copious quantities of wine of much later vintage

The reception was the natural development of Rietz's long time study of the food habits of man

One of this country's leading engineers in the food machinery industry Rietz has acquired an exhaustive store of global knowledge on the history of food

His college course covers the food habits of the aboriginal man the primitive man how customs spread from South Africa the Orient Egypt and Palestine on through North Africa Turkey Greece, Southern, Central and Northern Europe France the British Isles, Mexico, and North America

Rietz believes a course of this type actually can do much to promote international good will by presenting a more personal and realistic view of other nations and their problems

Duck That Dog

SEATTLE (AP)—George is a duck who apparently thinks he's a dog He joined the David Dugan family last summer Where he came from they do not know And Smokey, the Dugan spaniel possibly flattered at his success in winning friends and influencing mallards is willing to go along with the duck's delusion They pal around together even teaming up to chase cats and cars

There is a complication though 'They fight like everything at meal time" Mrs Dugan explains 'George likes meat"

The U S marriage rate reached an all time peak of 16 2 per 1 000 population in 1946 and has been declining since that time except for an upswing in 1950 when the Korean war started

Sir Gerald Templer Hero in Malaya

Victor Over Reds Named to Kenya Post

LONDON (NANA) — Sir Gerald Templer—the British general who trounced the Communists in Malaya—has a new job special adviser to Defense Minister Harold MacMillan on subversion in the British empire

The 56 year old general who turned what looked like an endless battle against the jungle Reds in Malaya into an almost complete victory has been on leave recovering from a tropical disease since last June The new job involves coordination of defense throughout the empire against communism and terrorism

The appointment made at the request of Defense Minister MacMillan emphasizes the government's fear that the Reds will turn increasingly to infiltration guerrilla warfare terrorism and banditry as the danger of out and out hot war becomes greater

TEMPLER'S FIRST assignment is expected to be in Kenya where the government hopes he will be able to clean up the Mau Mau terrorists with the same tactics he used in Malaya—small closely knit military units psychological warfare to counter the terrorists' propaganda and a system of rewards to encourage terrorists to turn one another in

Templer's appointment brought applause from Kenya's hard pressed settlers Reporter John Redfern summed up the reaction there as just what we've been hoping for'

Nearly two years ago Wilfrid Havelock now minister for local government said Kenya needs a Templer' And this slogan there after became a battle cry in the African community

BUT IN THE confused Kenya situation Templer will need all his diplomatic abilities The settlers there the government officials the police officers and the army all have had different ideas about the best way to deal with the terror and bitter personal enmities have grown to a near-explosion point

Diplomacy however is nothing new to the general When British politicians had failed to come to an agreement with the American government in 1949 over exchange of secret guided-missiles information they sent Templer to Washington as head of a special mission He got the agreement signed in a week

How long will Templer stay at the antisubversion job? Government sources say tonight that it's likely to last less than a year—just long enough to get the system organized After that he will probably be appointed chief of the Imperial General Staff to succeed Gen Sir John Harding who retires in November

Feminine Justice

BRYAN Tex (AP)—They passed a law last November to let women serve on juries in Texas Two men up for trial asked to have an all woman panel hear their case But when they went to trial, they took one look at the jury and pleaded guilty to drunken driving

The band will lead the parade on Sunday afternoon and the quartet will entertain during the two-day session.

Way is the state vice president of the Central Zone and will be in charge of the conference.

Heroism Awards To Be Offered by Telephone System

Clare E. Williams, president of General Telephone Co. of Ohio, today announced that the General Telephone System has established a series of employe awards for acts of unusual heroism and meritorious achievement which will be known as the LaCroix Awards.

The LaCroix Awards are named for Morris F. LaCroix, chairman of the board of directors of General Telephone Corp., the man largely responsible for the establishment of the General Telephone System, which has operations in 21 states and serves more than 1,800,000 telephones.

The LaCroix Awards provide for a certificate of meritorious service and three types of medals—bronze, silver and gold—with accompanying cash awards. Employes receiving the certificate of meritorious service are given $25. Employes awarded the bronze medal will receive $100; $500 will be given to the silver medal recipients, while $1,000 will be received by the winner of the gold medal.

A committee within General Telephone Co. of Ohio designated by the company president will select annually winners of the certificate of meritorious service and the bronze medal. Recipients of the bronze medal awards become eligible to compete for silver and gold awards and are selected by a system-wide committee appointed by Donald C. Power, president of General Telephone Corp.

Akron Man New Head Of Truckers in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Trucking Assn. ended its three-day convention here yesterday, re-electing as president Clarence A. Kelley, secretary-treasurer of Dixie Ohio Express Co., Akron.

The group also renamed as Ohio vice president of the American Trucking Assn. Owen O. Orr, president of Akron's Motor Cargo, Inc.

Other officers elected include: Treasurer Sam J. Tutt of Hauselman Transportation Co., Middletown, and Secretary W. H. Ford of Ford Bros., Inc., Ironton. The group also elected 27 new trustees.

Clerk of Courts Office Using Microfilm System

BUCYRUS—Microfilming equipment has been put in use here by Crawford County Clerk of Courts Mabel Mullen following authorization for its purchase by county commissioners.

The equipment, which cost $775, includes a commercial microfilmer, costing $550, and a reader at $225, both manufactured by the Recordax Corp. in Cleveland.

Mrs. Mullen said that all court cases except those ordered "without record" will be recorded on film and the filming will eliminate making typewritten copies of records.

The microfilming of records also will aid in solving a storage problem since the need for large volumes of case copies will be eliminated, Mrs. Mullen pointed out.

CALLS PLAN SUCCESSFUL

Feminine Glitter Isn't Faked; Gem Businesses Report Booms

NEW YORK (UP) —Take one man's run of luck on the stock market a woman's love for precious gems and you have a happy jeweler

And these days the jewelers are beaming The nation prospers so do their sales

"They're not only buying more diamonds and emeralds" said one leading New York jeweler, "but bigger ones"

It is a pretty safe bet that more women own precious stones than ever before although the jewelry industry doesn't say this in so many words

Its spokesmen report that imports and retail sales are up Arthur Winslow, of the American National Retail Jewelers' Association, estimated retail sales in 1954 were one per cent higher than 1953 both good years

Latest figures from the Diamond Manufacturers and Importers Association of America show that both the rough and the ready-to-use diamond imports are higher in 1954 than 1953.

Individual jewelers say their sales have increased much more than the one per cent rise nationally — partly because there is more money floating around and partly because the government cut the excise tax from 20 to 10 per cent

'A $2 000 tax saving on a $20 - 000 diamond bracelet makes a difference ' said William T Lusk executive vice president of Tiffany s

Van Cleef and Arpels a Fifth Avenue neighbor of Tiffany s still is amazed at the speed with which customers recently snapped up more than $500 000 worth of historic emeralds

The company removed and reset in various pieces the fabulous emeralds from a diamond and emerald tiara Napoleon presented to his second wife, Marie-Louise of Austria A one page picture story on the re-setting appeared in a national magazine

"In 24 hours we were sold out of the emeralds" said Fred Vermont the firm's secretary 'And we are still flooded with orders letters and telegrams from all over the country"
